AUSTRIANS CONTINUE VICTORIOUS ADVANCE

Petrograd Admits Seriousness of Situation in One of Greatesi Encounters of War

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The battle in western Galicia, launched a few days ago with an Austro-German attack from the Cracow region, has developed into one of the greatest encounters of the war. Petrograd dispatches admit the situation is a serious one, although it is asserted there that the advance has been checked. At Vienna and Berlin, however, it is said the Russians have begun a general retreat, that their whole position in the Carpathians is precarious and that the eastern campaign may turn on the events of the next few days.

Vienna advices say a desperate battle continued all day yesterday and that the Austrians and Germans took one position after another from the Russians.

The German invasion of the Baltic provinces of Russia, which is regarded lightly in Petrograd, is said in Berlin to be an important movement under the personal direction of Field Marshal von Hindenburg. His aim is believed to be the capture of Libau and Riga, which would enable him to harass Russian communication with Petrograd.

In Belgium further gains have been made by the Germans. The official French statement concedes the Germans won positions on the disputed hill, No. 60, near Ypres, and that the British were able to retake only part of them. Sharp fighting is in progress elsewhere along the western front, but apparently without decided changes.

Vienna, May 6.—The victorious Austrian advance continues on the west Galician front according to an official announcement made by the war office today. Russian prisoners to the number of 50,000, have been taken.

A battle of the most desperate character continued all night long and throughout yesterday without a break, on the west Galician front. The Austro-German armies continued to gain ground on the southern section of the battle front, capturing position after position from the Russians.

SERIOUS, SAYS PETROGRAD.

Petrograd, May 6.—With intermittent activity, consisting chiefly of intense artillery fire along the whole front from the Baltic provinces to the Austrian crownland of Bukowina, the Germans are developing a most serious movement in large force from the region of the Austrian fortress of Cracow, in the direction of the river Dunajec. The Germans succeeded in forcing the river but, according to Russian advices, they were effectively checked on the east bank by artillery fire.

In number of troops and pieces of artillery and generally through the vigorous character of the movement, this offensive eclipses all the other scattering maneuvers which the Germans have been employing in an attempt to dislodge the Russians from the Carpathian mountains.

On May 2, German forces in a hurricane advanced until they approached within 200 paces of the Russian trenches near Gorlice. There, though badly crippled by Russian artillery, they held their positions until nightfall.

In the region of Opatow and Lopuszno and at other points on this front between the upper Vistula and the Carpathians, fierce fighting is being recorded. After long artillery engagements the outcome of these battles usually is decided by bayonet encounters. A furious engagement near Gorlice, still continues undecided while to the eastward along the Carpathian front at Mezolaborez, Koziowka and Galovetski, the heights changed hands three times before the Russians obtained permanent possession of them on May 3.

WANT FIFTH WARD AS DRY TERRITORY

Temperance Forces Active in Western Section of the City.

As the result of a movement started some days ago by temperance forces in the western section of the city, an effort to make the Fifth ward of Fort Wayne dry territory is now under way.

It is said that remonstrances against the sale of liquor within the ward are now in circulation and are being liberally signed.

The Fifth ward embraces that section west of Broadway between the Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate tracks, including "Nebraska." Some eleven or twelve saloons are now located in the ward.

APPLE-GROWERS OF OHIO RAISE FUND

Will Erect Shaft in Old Archer Cemetery Near Fort Wayne.

Members of the Ohio Apple Growers' association are now engaged in raising a fund for the purpose of erecting a monument at the grave of Jonathan Chapman, better known as "Johnny Appleseed," who died in Allen county in 1847. "Appleseed" is buried on the old John Archer farm north of Fort Wayne. He came to this vicinity about the year 1828.

Chapman was born in Boston about the year 1775. He early drifted to western Pennsylvania, where in its wild frontier life his mania for planting apple seeds was first discovered. Tired of the rapid settlement of the wilderness he soon pushed out for the west. In 1801 he visited Ohio with a load of apple seeds, which he had gathered from the cider presses of western Pennsylvania. He planted his seeds on the fertile spots, on the banks of the Licking creek. In 1800 he was seen by a settler drifting down the Ohio river in two canoes, lashed together, and loaded with apple seeds, destined for the western border of the white settlement. He often planted as high as a bushel of seed in one locality then inclosed the spot with a slight fence, or guard of bushes, when he would leave the place till the trees had in a measure grown. Planting one stock of seeds, he returned to Pennsylvania for another, which he gathered from the cider presses in different places.

In this way the wilderness was made to blossom like a rose, and the foundation was laid for the immense growth

KAUFF IS PENITENT; ASKS REINSTATEMENT

New York, May 6.—In a penitent letter written today to President Gilmore, of the Federal league, by Bennie Kauff, the Brooklyn club's outfielder, who caused such a sensation last week when he signed a contract with the New York Nationals, the player asks re-instatement. He says in part:

"I am anxious to play base ball again with the Brookfeds and feel sorry that I followed the advice of older men in the game and took part in the recent trouble." Kauff, who is practicing with the other Brooklyn players every day, accepted his pay check from the Brooklyn management yesterday and it is generally understood that he will be re-instated in time to play against the Kansas City team here next Saturday.

MISSIVE CARRIES NEW DEATH THREAT

Letter-Writing Slayer of New York Children at Work Again.

New York, May 6.—The letter writing murderer who killed five-year-old Elenore Cohn and four-year-old Charlie Murray has written to the Murray boy's mother telling her that he will commit another murder when the present excitement over the child's death subsides.

The letter was received today at the time the little victim's body was about to be buried. Mrs. Murray read one paragraph and collapsed. The missive was taken to police headquarters to be examined for finger prints.

The murder of the little boy, who was killed by knife wounds in his abdomen, the night of May 3, was preceded by a similar threat that contained a letter addressed to Mrs. Cohn, the mother of the little girl who was killed March 29. Both children, the police believe, were killed by the same person.

The letter to Mrs. Murray was mailed in this city at 7:30 o'clock last night and was delivered today while preparations were being made for funeral services for the boy. In the belief that the slayer will be in the neighborhood at the time of the funeral, scores of detectives mingled with the crowds outside the Murray home. The streets became so crowded that police had to preserve order.

One suspect, a man seen muttering to himself, was arrested but later released after telling a story that convinced the police he knew nothing of the crime. Eastside mothers, thoroughly alarmed, escorted their children to and from school in the neighborhood today.

SNOW WITH GENTLE SPRING IN KANSAS

Killing Frosts Are Also Reported Over Large Area in the West.

Kansas City, Mo., May 6.—Snow fell in northwestern Kansas, a section of the panhandle of Texas and at Denver, Col., during the last 24 hours, according to reports to the local weather bureau today. Killing frosts prevailed last night over Nebraska, the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming, while Oklahoma, Texas, Iowa, Missouri and a large portion of Kansas experienced cold rains.

Goodland, Kas., got an inch of snow while flurries fell in the northwestern part of the state. Dalhart, Texas, reported a white blanket covered that section of the panhandle this morning. Fears are felt for fruit trees there. Predictions for a repetition tonight of frost in Nebraska, with north central and western Kansas added to the threatened district, were made by the bureau.

CHARGES FLY AT HEARING

Labor Leaders Accused at Inquiry Into Pennsylvania Company.

PIERCE SAYS LEE DID NOT DELIVER

Had Promised B. R. T. Support to Shopmen, Declares Strike Chief.

Washington, May 6.—Charges that W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, promised the support of his organization to a strike of Pennsylvania railroad shopmen in 1914 and failed to deliver it and counter charges that W. H. Pierce, organizer of the shopmen's strike, began his activities after the Pennsylvania had refused him a position as legislative agent, featured today's hearing before the industrial commission. Mr. Lee will have an opportunity to testify, if he desires.

General Manager Long made several detailed statements of labor troubles on the road and H. B. Hunt explained the operation of the railroad's relief system. The Pennsylvania state constabulary was discussed.

Pierce Resumes Testimony.

W. Pierce resumed his testimony concerning the Pennsylvania shopmen's strikes at Altoona and Harrisburg last year. He asserted that conditions among the shop men never would be what they should be until the railroad company extended the men the right of organization, the same as to employees of the transportation service.

S. C. Long, general manager of the Pennsylvania, was ready to take the stand following the completion of Mr. Pierce's testimony.

Pierce questioned by Commissioner Weinstock, insisted that the Pennsylvania discharged, in wholesale lots, men who joined the shopmen's union.

"I do not say the Pennsylvania railroad objects to five or ten per cent of their men being organized but when the organization shows strength the company sets its machine in motion to wipe them out of existence."

NEGRO MAID TOSSES IN A NEW SENSATION

Says She Was Offered $300 to Change Testimony in Carman Case.

Mineola, N. Y., May 6.—Celia Coleman, the negro maid who is the chief witness for the state in the trial of Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise D. Bailey, caused a sensation on re-direct examination today by testifying that a negro detective named George Hicks had endeavored to induce her to change her story of the murder and told her that if she would do so Mrs. Carman would pay her $300.

"Hicks came to Charleston, S. C., where I was spending the winter," said the witness, "and told me Mrs. Carman would give me $300 if I would change my story."

Mrs. Carman's attorney objected to the admission of the testimony but was overruled upon his admission that Hicks was connected with the defense. Mrs. Carman evidenced considerable agitation during her former maid's testimony. George Toomer, Celia's cousin and a man named Flood were present when Hicks made the alleged offer, the witness further testified. Toomer, who was the last witness before recess corroborated that portion of the maid's testimony in which she said she had told him a few nights after the shooting what Mrs. Carman had said to her the night of the shooting and the morning afterwards. Toomer had written down the story she related as it was told. The memorandum was produced.

The negress again declared yesterday that Mrs. Carman said to her after the shooting at the Carman home: "I shot him," and later, "What did I kill that woman for? I hope God will forgive me."

The state boped to finish its case today.

At the afternoon session Toomer corroborated the Coleman woman's statement that a detective had tried to induce her to change her testimony while she was in South Carolina. With Toomer as its last witness the state rested.

Winchester, Ind., May 6.—William C. Hinshaw, who was paroled by Governor Ralston in order that he could attend the funeral of his friend, Union B. It is understood that the parole is temporary and that Hinshaw will return to Michigan City Sunday.

The Hunt funeral was held this afternoon. The city was draped in mourning for the former secretary of state and during the funeral services the business places were closed.

PREPARE FOR SIEGE.

Hankow, May 6.—The Japanese barracks here have been prepared for a siege. Following the consul's advice many Japanese have left the city. The Chinese appear wholly indifferent. Several prominent native residents were entertained at dinner last night by some of the leading Japanese citizens.

JAPS FLEE MUKDEN.

Mukden, Via Peking, May 6.—The Japanese consular orders issued May 3 resulted in a general flight of Japanese from Mukden the following day. The value of a gold yen increased thirty silver cents and a rich harvest was reaped by exchange brokers. All Japanese civilians except a few bankers and railway officials now have left the city.

All classes of Chinese viewed the exodus with stolid indifference, not insulting or molesting in any way the persons leaving the city. Although the natives are deeply perturbed, the city remains absolutely quiet. Japanese troops occupy strategic positions in Mukden, while Chinese soldiers are reported to be moving into position to the south of the city. Many of the residents in that district are coming north.

BRYAN WILL NOT PREDICT.

Washington, May 6.—Official dispatches from both Tokio and Peking received here today indicated that while an ultimatum to China by Japan was considered possible, the step actually

COLONEL ROOSEVELT NOT CROSS-EXAMINED

Barnes' Suit Against Former President for Libel Nears Close.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 6.—The suit of William Barnes for libel against Theodore Roosevelt is nearly completed, his attorneys announced today. Only a few more witnesses remained to be recalled. Just how long Col. Roosevelt will stay on the witness stand today depends on how long Justice William S. Andrews would permit him to go into local conditions at Albany.

When court opened today Mr. Ivins and Mr. Bowers began their argument upon the admissibility of evidence concerning local affairs in Albany. Mr. Bowers, for Col. Roosevelt, urged that the Colonel be allowed to answer the questions put to him yesterday as to information he possessed about an arrangement between Mr. Barnes "and a man named McCabe, at one time leader of the democratic party in Albany." Mr. Bowers argued that the evidence should be admitted in mitigation of damages.

He said: "I expect Col. Roosevelt will testify here that Mr. Barnes bargained with one McCabe. I expect the defendant will testify that Mr. Barnes found places in gambling houses for men to work."

Justice Andrews ruled against this line of questioning saying that any information the defendant had received which was confined to the county and city affairs in Albany, was immaterial.

Col. Roosevelt then resumed the stand.

"I don't care to have anything further to say to Col. Roosevelt," remarked Mr. Ivins with a smile. So, contrary to expectations, the colonel was not cross examined upon his testimony of yesterday.

JAPAN EMBARRASSED BY THE PUBLICITY

Didn't Want Details of Her Negotiations With China Out So Early.

Tokio, Thursday, April 22.—(By Mail to Shanghai, May 6.)—The world-wide publication of the list of demands presented to China by Japan shortly after the defeat of the German garrison at Kiao Chow and which still are being negotiated between the two governments coupled with the reports of growing opposition to them in England and the attitude on this whole subject of the United States, has greatly embarrassed the Japanese government from which the people expect much.

Various political associations in Japan are clamoring for drastic measures against China. Everybody is discussing the possibility of war, and speculating upon the nature and the extent of the military campaign Japan would have to undertake should China refuse to cede. All parties and factions in the country are united in favor of Japan establishing a predominating influence in China, which country is regarded as the natural field for the needed Japanese expansion.

The semi-official press is urging the government to stand firm in spite of criticisms of foreign countries and is giving expression to the belief that the failure of the present negotiations would excite the profound disappointment and indignation of the Japanese people.

The statements given out today that Japan proposed to communicate to China the irreducible minimum of her demands, to be followed later by an ultimatum should China continue to prove intractable, have met with popular approval. Japanese officials are denying that there is any purpose of sending any ultimatum but they are permitting it to be understood among the Japanese that the situation has reached a crisis. A dispatch has been received here from Sazbo, the naval base, saying that if the negotiations with China were broken off, the second and third Japanese fleets would sail for the north of China. The Japanese government has replied verbally to all the points in the American note on the subject of the Chinese situation. It is seeking to assure America that it has no intention of violating the Root agreement concerning the open door in China or of prejudicing the rights of Americans in China.

SEES MISSING HAT; SOLVES BURGLARIES

Indianapolis, Ind., May 6.—When Norman A. Slusher, 2930 West Michigan street, saw his hat on another man's head while riding down town on a West Michigan street car, at noon yesterday, he decided to follow the man and hat until he met a policeman, in the hope of catching the thief who entered his home April 26. The man with the hat alighted at Illinois and Maryland streets and Emmet Englebright, a traffic policeman, arrested him when Slusher pointed him out.

Carl Irwin, 19 years old, giving Franklin, Ind., as his home, was the man who was arrested, and he is said to have confessed yesterday afternoon to Detectives Roche and Coleman that he has robbed six dwellings and a school house since April 23. He named Scott Dillman, 19 years old, as an accomplice in several burglaries, the detectives say. Dillman was arrested on April 27 by Sergt. Hett and squad, and is held charged with loitering. Both men are white.

Former Senator Young Arrested; Then Freed

Vienna, May 6.—Via London, 12:53 p. m.—Former United States Senator Lafayette Young, of Des Moines, Iowa, accompanied by a former American deputy consul at Berne, Switzerland, was arrested at Inisbruck, Austria, yesterday on a suspicion of espionage directed against Mr. Young's companion. Mr. Young was promptly released, with apologies, after a few hours' detention in his hotel, but his companion was held in custody in the hotel until today before he was able to satisfy the suspicious of the authorities, who apparently had been warned to look for a man of the same name.

Mr. Young arrived in Vienna this morning. Speaking of the incident he said he saw no reason for complaint. He left later in the day for Berlin.

MOTHER KILLS ONE SON; NERVE FAILS

Milwaukee Woman Admits Intention to Slay Both, Then Herself.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 6.—Mrs. Susie Wodjik, wife of a sailor who lives alone in the basement of a shack in a desolate part of Milwaukee while her husband is away during the navigation season, last night admitted, the police assert, that she choked to death her 6-year-old son, Adam, several days ago.

The woman collapsed after detailing the story. She said, according to the police, that she had planned to strangle her other young son also and to take her own life, but that her nerve failed after she had left the body of one child in an alley. So, she said, she decided to place a rag in the boy's mouth and report to the police that he was missing.

Mrs. Wodjik professed ignorance of how he met death, but finally broke down and told the story, the police said. She said that she had tired of her miserable existence and wanted to take her children with her to the grave.

IS STILL RUSHING WAR PREPARATIONS

Italy Continues to Make Ready, Despite Her Negotiations.

On the Italian frontier Wednesday, May 5.—Via Paris, May 6.—12:40 p. m.—At the same time that the negotiations between Italy and Austria are being continued, Italy's military preparations are being completed with as much energy as though the country expected to participate in war tomorrow. All the Carabiniers and the customs guards, who in Italy are attached to the army, have been called to the colors and all military leaves of absence have been suppressed. The frontier of Italy on the Austrian side has been strongly fortified. All the passes are protected with entrenchments and wire entanglements. Concrete has been laid in a number of places in the erection of barricades for the protection of the soldiers.

Special measures have been adopted for the defense of Venice and the art treasures in this city. The naval authorities are of the opinion that long range guns of large calibre are sufficient to prevent any hostile fleet from bombarding the city, but attack from aeroplanes is feared. To afford protection against the onslaughts of aviators, anti-airship guns around the city and it several points around the city and it is believed they will suffice to protect Venice from assault from above.

In addition to the troops concentrated on the Austrian frontier another Italian army has been brought together in the vicinity of Brindisi, on the Adriatic. This concentration is interpreted as a sign that Italy foresees the possibility of action in the near east.

1915 CLASS OF HOPE HOSPITAL GRADUATES

Dr. Miles F. Porter Gives Interesting Address at Exercises.

The eleven members of the graduation class of 1915 of the Hope hospital received their diplomas Wednesday evening at the close of the commencement exercises which were held in the auditorium of the high school building. A large audience of friends and relatives of the nurses were present at the event which marked the close of the consummation of the four year course.

The large stage had been beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers and the eleven young ladies marched to their places to music of the Minuet orchestra. The graduates all wore nurses' uniforms. Rev. M. L. Buckley of the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, delivered the invocation. A solo by Miss Ethel Doud was well received by the audience.

Dr. Miles F. Porter, who delivered the address of the evening, chose for his subject, "Humanity's Debt." In the course of his talk he said that man's inhumanity to man had never been more conspicuous than during the present great European struggle for supremacy. He paid a tribute to the Red Cross nurses and American physicians who are on the battlegrounds giving their help to the wounded soldiers.

In addressing the class, which is one of the largest ever graduated from the institution, he said, "All your work is worth doing well. The ability to do great things is measured by humility in doing the little things of life first for in this way you prepare for the supreme test. The close of your career of preparation is like the close of a beautiful day with the abiding faith that there is another one to come."

Clinton R. Wilson administered the obligations to the graduates. The solemn Florence Nightingale vow of faithfulness and service being assumed by all with uplifted hands. Mrs. M. S. Young presented the badges and pins.

The Hope Hospital Alumae association gave a dance at the Minuet for the graduates at the close of the exercises. PEACE IN OHIO COAL FIELD SEEMS CERTAIN

Cleveland, Ohio, May 6.—Peace in the Ohio coal field for the coming year at least seemed sure today following the passage yesterday by the legislature at Columbus of the Gallagher bill and progress made by the joint scale conference of miners and operators in session here.

The Gallagher bill makes optional rather than compulsory the provisions of the Green law, specifying the run of mine basis for paying miners. The operators had agreed that if this bill passed and the miners made concessions on working conditions they would sign the 47 cent run of mine scale for a year, and they propose to stand by their agreement. The desired concessions have practically all been made by the miners' delegates at the meeting here, and unless Governor Willis vetoes the Gallagher bill, which is improbable, an agreement will likely be signed before the end of the week.

MINISTERS WITNESS GREAT PRODUCTION

Several ministers accepted the invitation extended by the management of the Minuet theater and witnessed as guests of the theater the wonderful production, "The Life of Our Savior," in seven reels, Thursday morning. Those who saw the production were enthusiastic in their praise of it.

Very vividly and realistically, but none the less tenderly and reverently, the pictures portray the principal events in the life of Christ.

The subject is handled in the most authentic and reverent manner and the beautiful story holds the spectator enthralled while teaching a lesson every man, woman or child should know. The conclusion leaves the spectator feeling better toward all mankind, realizing afresh the meaning of the brotherhood of man too often forgotten in life's materialistic struggle.

CHICAGO ORGANIZES WAR HOSPITAL UNIT

Chicago, May 6.—A hospital unit of thirty-two doctors and seventy-four nurses is being organized in Chicago for service with the British army, according to announcement today by Dr. John B. Murphy, who was directed by the British war department to complete the organization. All members of the unit will be Chicagoans. Dr. James M. Neff, a former associate of Dr. Murphy, will be the active head of the unit when it leaves America. He is to have the rank of a lieutenant colonel of the British army. The nurses will be selected from those having the greatest surgical experience. The unit expects to sail within six weeks.

CORNELL ASKS CLEMENCY.

Alumni Makes Plea to Governor for Leo Frank.

Atlanta, Ga., May 6.—Governor Slaton had before him today a bound volume containing hundreds of signed circulars from the Cornell Alumni association of western Pennsylvania asking executive clemency for Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta factory girl. Personal notes to the governor were attached to many of the circulars by Cornell alumni who knew Frank, who is a graduate of Cornell, in his student days.

INVADING ARMIES IN A PERILOUS PLIGHT

London, May 6.—Reports of consistent progress on the part of the allied forces at the Dardanelles were contradicted in an official statement today from the Turkish war office. It was said the troops which landed on Gallipoli peninsula were in a precarious position, being encircled by Turkish forces and unable to advance. The statement was made that only two points on the peninsula—Seddul-Bahr and Avi Burnu, were held by the allies.

Dispatches from French and British sources said further successes had been won by the allies. An attack by Turks on the encampment at Krithia resulted disastrously for them, according to these advices, the Turks having left 1,500 dead behind them after their repulse. A British correspondent asserted that the tip of the peninsula and the entire western side were under control of the allies.

Rome, Vienna and Berlin advices indicated that a crisis had come in the negotiations between Italy and Austria. In Rome where it had been felt of late that war was inevitable, there has been a sudden revival of hope of a peaceful settlement owing to the fact that Austria is said to have realized the necessity of making substantial territorial concessions. Vienna regarded as significant a visit of the Italian ambassador to the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, although the outcome was not disclosed. Berlin newspapers said Italy's participation in the war must be regarded as not unlikely.

Claims were made in Petrograd that the victory of the Russian army of the Caucasus over the Turks announced yesterday, was an important and decisive one. A force of 30,000 Turks which attacked the Russians in the Dilman-Khori region, was said to have been repulsed with heavy losses and compelled to retire in disorder.

Still another neutral steamer has been sunk in the North sea whether by mine or torpedo has not been established. The Danish vessel, Cathay, from Denmark to China, was blown up, but her passengers and crew, numbering 43, escaped.

THINKS HE WOULD LIKE HIGH SCHOOL

Cleveland Lad Anxious to Get Back Home to Complete Education.

Nick Anthony was the moniker given the police by a 17-year-old lad who told the city court he would like nothing so well as to get back to his home in Cleveland, browse on the home cooking and get back again to his place in the high school he attended, even if he had to give up his cherished plans for setting a new pace in fortune-making out west. Nick and a companion were overhauled early Thursday morning at Main street and Broadway by Officer Felber. The other lad escaped, but Nick was locked up. A revolver scabbard and some cartridges were found in his pockets and it is supposed the other lad has the gun. Young Anthony denied that he was a burglar or the short end of a stick-up sketch team. Judge Kerr ordered him held until inquiry can be made.

Other City Court Cases.

William Breuer, brew-master at the Berghoff Brewing association's plant, took an appeal from the city court after he had been fined $10 and costs for driving an automobile without 1915 license tags. He explained that he had two older cars, but recently bought a Ford for his own use, had applied for license for it—a fact he proved—and had transferred the tags from a larger car to the new one while waiting for cards from Indianapolis. The tags had been transferred back to the big car without his knowledge and he drove out with his Ford and was sent in.

Dick Brennan was fined $100 and costs and given thirty days at the state penal farm by Judge Kerr Thursday morning, all of which will keep him at the institution 140 days. He had pleaded guilty to drunk charges with several previous convictions.

William Doudhager, another chronic drunk known to fame as "Whisky Bill," was turned loose with the warning that his next appearance in the city court would get him a trip to the state farm.

John May, a loiterer, was continued until May 20 to give the police time to look him up.

John Parrish, a drunk, said he had recovered sufficiently from his debauch to play safe and was released.

Clara Smith and Eva Swope, two married women who were continued for a day on loitering charges, were continued further until June 5 and released on their own recognizance.

MAJOR QUITS TRAFFIC SQUAD.

Officer Reginald Major, who has been one of the traffic squad for a year or two, has been transferred to night patrol duty at his own request and will be succeeded on the traffic detail by Patrolman John Keintz. Officer Major says traffic duty has not agreed with his health and that he has suffered from headache a great deal since the adoption of the whistle system for signalling traffic.

A London resident prepared for an attack from aircraft by filling in his roof, which is flat, with sand, with the result that the roof sagged and the ceilings fell in.

HE WARNS ENGLAND GERMANY MAY WIN

Poet Watson Declares His Kingdom is in Very Grave Peril.

London, May 6.—William Watson, the poet, has contributed a prose article to the Evening News, in which he denounces the apathy of the British government and people in the following terms:

"It is high time that the masses of the people of this country had it driven and hammered into their somewhat slow minds, for no gentler mode of introducing it will suffice, that it is very doubtful, indeed, whether we are going to beat the Germans at all."

Criticizing the "lulling assurances that all will ultimately be well," Mr. Watson praises the spirit of the Germans and declares "our allies and we ourselves are in imminent and grievous peril."

Continuing, Mr. Watson makes the statement that Germany is "supremely formidable with the spirit that makes her an unprecedented menace and terror to us and to the world,'" and he declares that "we are acting, so far as our land forces are concerned, if not a subordinate, at any rate a secondary, part in this gigantic drama of the nations, and it will be the fault of our own apathy, sluggishness and fatal optimism if the drama darkens at the last into a tragedy both for us and the truest interests of mankind."

What is asserted to be the finest stone mason work in the world is to be seen in the ruins of Inca palaces in the city of Cuzco, Peru.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MAY BE FATALLY HURT.

Frank Haynes, Young Farmer Near Ruth, Crushed Under Harrow.

Bluffton, Ind., May 6.—Frank Haynes, a young married farmer, who lives near Ruth, was run over by a disc harrow Wednesday, and will probably die from his injuries. He was thrown from his seat when the horses started to run and one of the sharp discs passed over the right side of his head, cutting a gash six inches long through the skull just over the ear. he bone was crushed and broken and the substance of the brain was oozing from the wound when he was picked up. Despite his terrible hurt, he retained consciousness until he was placed under an anaesthetic by Drs. A. W. Brown, G. B. Morris, of Petroleum, and Caylor, of Pennville. If the injury in itself is not fatal there is great danger from infection as the disc was covered with dirt. Mr. Haynes was driving into the barnyard with the machine when a passing automobile frightened the horses so that they whirled and bolted, unseating him immediately. Besides the cut on his head his body was badly bruised, but was not cut, his head only passing under the knives.

AFFRAY AT DECATUR.

Decatur, Ind., May 6. Because of his refusal to pay his board bill, Tony Pareso, an Italian, employed on the Erie construction gang, was the victim of a vicious assault in the vicinity of the camp cars near the Eleventh street crossing, by Joe Miller, proprietor of the boarding car. When Pareso refused to pay, Miller picked up a foot adz and made a pass at Pareso, striking him with the sharp edge and cutting a gash in the forehead, through the eyebrow, just missing the corner of the right eye, and glancing off toward the right ear. The right cheek bone was also cut through. The blow knocked Pareso down and Miller then picked up an axe handle and struck him twice on the left side, one of the blows snapping a bone in the left forearm.

WILL PROSECUTE ARMSTRONG.

Portland, Ind., May 6.—An officer went from here today to Indianapolis to bring back John Harold Armstrong, self-confessed white slaver, who made Miss Jennie Velora Thompson, a pretty young stenographer of this city, his last victim. Armstrong was held at Indianapolis awaiting action by the grand jury under the Mann white slave act, but he had not violated that law in this state and was released from federal custody. He was held, however, on other charges to be brought here—wife desertion and probably issuing fraudulent checks. Armstrong married the Thompson girl here after a brief acquaintance and took her to Indianapolis. He said it was his intention to sell her into a life of shame, but that when she knelt in their room and offered a simple reverent prayer he had not the heart to further violate such innocence. He went out and confessed to a Salvation Army officer, then escaped, but was later recaptured in Evansville.

PLAN JUVENILE MARKET.

Huntington, Ind., May 6.—In order to encourage the children of Huntington to cut the high cost of living by learning to raise vegetables in back yards and to cultivate every available space of ground that can be obtained, the Women's Civic Improvement league in conjunction with the Parent-Teachers' association will foster a juvenile market where the children can dispose of their produce. This action was taken at a meeting of the Women's Civic Improvement league in the Commercial club rooms. The idea, while unique, comes as a sequence to the flower and vegetable contest to be participated in by the children this summer under the auspices of the league.

SWALLOWS ACID; RECOVERS.

Huntington, Ind., May 6.—Fred Fitzgerald, a restaurant man of this city, aged 22, swallowed a quantity of carbolic acid in an attempt to end his life, but was saved by a physician. His wife pleaded with him for five minutes to dissuade him from swallowing the poison and then ran out of their home to get help. When she returned with a neighbor Fitzgerald was writhing in agony on the bed. He had told his wife he wanted to die because she no longer loved him. The couple have been married only since last December and have been getting along well together. Business troubles are believed to have caused Fitzgerald to become demented.

DROVE INTO LAKE WAWASEE.

Warsaw, Ind., May 6.—Harrison Lemmons, a teamster, who resides in the northwest part of the county, narrowly escaped death or serious injury, when a load of logs on which he was riding went over a high embankment and fell into Lake Wawasee, when he fell asleep. The team went to turn out of the road and the heavily loaded wagon slipped down a high embankment and rolled into the lake. When the wagon left the road the driver awoke and managed to jump to safety. After working for five hours the loaded wagon was removed from the lake by five teams of horses.

TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT.

Columbia City, Ind., May 6.—James W. Johnson is serving a sentence of five days in jail for contempt of court and will have five additoinal days to serve if he does not pay the costs incurred in his case. He and Will Casner were witnesses for the state in the circuit court this week and appeared Monday, but were not used. Tuesday they did not show up and they had the court tied up for several hours, while the sheriff was trying to get them. At last they were brought in. Judge Wrigley gave Johnson a penalty and Sent Casner home.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR DIES.

Huntington, Ind., May 6.—Martin B. Merriman, aged 70, was buried in Clear Creek cemetery today after services in the Baptist church. He died at the home of his son Curtis in Huntington. Mr. Merriman was born in Whitley county, December 31, 1845. He was married to Rebecca Sutton. There were four children. The wife and one child are dead. Mr. Merriman lived in Whitley county for many years. Three weeks ago he came to visit his son Curtis and was taken sick shortly after he came to his son's home. He was a private soldier in Company I of the 152d regiment of the Indiana infantry.

MISSING MAN HEARD FROM.

Decatur, Ind., May 6.—Frank Deweese, the Decatur resident who mysteriously disappeared from his home in the city Sunday afternoon, has been heard from at Detroit, Mich., and it is expected that he will arrive home some time this evening or tonight. The first information as to his location was received at Lima, O., by his father, and by him the news was sent to the family here. It is thought that he left his home under a temporary mental derangement and that after reaching Detroit realized what he had done and at once notified the father that he might allay all fear as to his safety.

DEATH RECALLS OLD TRAGEDY.

Portland, Ind., May 6.—Samuel J. Bone, 60, died at the county infirmary from heart disease. His death recalls a tragedy in this city about twenty-four years ago when acting as a special police officer, the deceased shot and killed Frank Giles, who had resisted arrest. A brother of Giles swore revenge on Bone and a few years later, after Bone had been acquitted of a murder charge, met Bone on the streets here and a pistol duel ensued, but the shots fired went wild of their mark. The irate brother was blown to atoms in a nitroglycerine explosion in Ohio.

BEATS UP MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Lagrange, Ind., May 6.—At Mongo, this county, Robert Wilson put his favorite dog in the best bed the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Fannie W. Colwell, affords. Mother-in-law objected and there was an argument that Wilson tried to terminate by barroom methods. After getting a black eye, Mrs. Colwell swore out a warrant for Wilson's arrest and he was fined $1 and costs by Judge Drake for assault and battery and is now in jail for ten days in default of payment.

WARSAW WOMAN DIES.

Warsaw, Ind., May 6.—Mrs. M. J. Kilbourne, a well known Kosciusko resident, passed away at the Geo. Groves farm home, northeast of Warsaw. Her death was unexpected although she had been in failing health for more than a year. Mrs. Kilbourne was 76 years of age and had resided in this county for twenty years, coming here with her husband from Anderson. Her death was due to a complication of kidney and heart disease. She was a member of the Warsaw Methodist church and had a large circle of friends.

ELKS TO CELEBRATE JULY 4TH.

Huntington, Ind., May 6.—An old-fashioned Fourth of July, the kind that saw a gala day in every village a few years back, will be held at the Huntington fair grounds on July 5, under the auspices of the Elks' lodge. The Fourth of July picnic was decided on at a meeting of the entertainment committee of the lodge. Inasmuch as July 4 comes on Sunday this year and as Saturday is usually such a busy day, the committee decided that the entertainment should be held on Monday.

ACQUITTED OF PATERNITY.

Warsaw, Ind., May 6.—After a trial lasting most of the day in the Kosciusko circuit court, yesterday, Russell Green, of Scott township, was acquitted late in the afternoon of a charge of being the father of Florence Hamman's child which has been dead since last March. Green furnished a staggering alibi to show that he was ill of pneumonia and could not possibly have been in the young woman's company at the time she alleges he was.

FISHES FOR JAIL KEY; FLEES.

Huntington, Ind., May 6.—Fred DeArmond, awaiting trial in the circuit court for beating and robbing Mike Milchens, a foreigner, here several weeks ago, fished from his cell for the key to the female ward of the county jail and got a bite. THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Proverb 22:17-29.

17 Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee; they shall withal be fitted in thy lips.

19 That thy trust may be in the Lord, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee.

20 Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge.

21 That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee?

22 Rob not the poor, because he is poor; neither oppress the afflicted in the gate:

23 For the Lord will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoiled them.

24 Make no friendship with an angry man; and with a furious man thou shalt not go:

25 Lest thou learn his ways, and get a snare to thy soul.

26 Be not thou one of them that strike hands, or of them that are sureties for debts.

27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why should he take away thy bed from under thee?

28 Remove not the ancient landmark, which thy fathers have set.

29 Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men.

The Gulflight Case

It is gratifying to note the calmness and sanity manifested by the American people following the publication of reports that the American steamer Gulflight had been attacked by a submarine, and as details begin to come through from official channels the wisdom of such a course becomes increasingly apparent. It is apparent from evidence thus far at hand that the oil tanker was flying the American flag at the time she was singled out for torpedoing, and while the early reports credited a German submarine with having made the attack, later reports declare that that fact has by no means been established. The identity and the nationality of the subsea warship is yet to be determined. It may yet be substantiated as the work of a German warship, and it may also fall out that it was a submarine of another nation that made the error that wrecked the ship and cost the lives of two Americans.

In any event, the true facts must be ascertained before intelligent action can be taken. The official inquiry, now in progress at several points, will supply this information, untinged by bias and unmagnified by the partisanism that must inevitably characterize so many of the war statements issued by the belligerents. It is inconceivable that any of the nations at war should deliberately attack an American vessel. It is the firm belief at Washington that when it shall be established definitely from what source the attack came there will be a prompt expression of regret and whatever financial reparation is possible for an occurrence of this kind. Nobody in authority is prepared to believe that there will be any other than an amicable adjustment of the whole matter at as early a date as is consistent with intelligent procedure. The exigencies of war bring many unlooked-for and unintentional complexities. Clearly the Gulflight case is one of them, and proper and ample adjustment will be desired none the less by the nation at fault than by the United States itself.

Speaking at what was announced as a democratic "love feast" at Plymouth, Representative John R. Jones, who achieved considerable prominence by his triumphant fight for a state-wide primary law at the recent session of the Indiana legislature, took occasion to utter a wholesome warning against machine politics, both in his own party and in other political organizations as well. Mr. Jones expressed the belief that there exists in Indiana a bi-partisan machine that attempts to control and capitalize, for revenue only, the politics of this great state. Doubtless Mr. Jones was moved to speak by his observations and experiences as a legislator, and yet it is extremely doubtful if conditions are any different from those which have obtained from time immemorial in Indiana as well as in other states. It is no shock to be told that the game of politics is none too clean at best. However, much is accomplished in the way of reform, it can always stand a bit more and be the better for it.

One is constrained to admire the confidence and the courage rather than the methods of the peace envoys named by the international woman's congress who purpose visiting rulers of all the principal nations of the world—those at war and those at peace—in the effort to launch a world movement for peace. And yet since mere man has made an utter failure thus far in bringing about that sort of an understanding there is no reason why woman should not try her hand, and no excuse for criticism of her effort in that direction, whatever course it may take.

Robert T. Lincoln, chairman of the board of directors of the Pullman company, testifying before the federal industrial relations board, admitted that the salaries of the porters on his company's cars is a mattery of worry to him. The aforesaid salarics are announced as $27.50 per month, and inasmuch as the company has paid to its stockholders a total of $223,000,000 in dividends, it would seem that Mr. Lincoln is unnecessarily distressed if his worry be over the possibility that the colored gentlemen are getting too large a share of the profits.

Because of the prominence of the principals, the lay reader has, of course, been tremendously interested in the hearing of the suit in which Mr. Barnes is seeking damages in the sum of $50,000 from Colonel Roosevelt for alleged libelous utterances. What the lay reader cannot comprehend, however, is what most of the clawing and hammering in the evidence as recounted in the newspaper reports has to do with the libel action, anyway.

The penalty of prominence was again illustrated when the driver of a white house automobile was haled into police court in Washington and fined $5 and costs for speeding. Ordinary chauffeurs all over the country are driving their machines at Pennsylvania limited speed every day and getting away with it. This thing of being in the limelight has its drawbacks, after all.

DR. MAYO AND THE HABERDASHERS.

(Toledo Blade.)

We learn through a Detroit contemporary that the haberdashers are much disturbed in mind by the phillipic of the eminent Dr. Mayo against the belt which a cycle of fashion has caused to supercede suspenders.

They fear, these merchants, that they will be left with highly costly stock on their shelves. At the very season when they feel most prepared against what trade may come, they will be compelled to lay in suspenders to meet the rush of an appendicitis-haunted public. Where hitherto they have praised the belt, pointed out its elegance and sworn to its efficiency, they will have to reverse English and condemn it as criminally unhealthful.

This is a compliment to Dr. Mayo, and we are sure he will appreciate it. Not every physician or surgeon can count upon impressing his patients, much less the world, with the finger of warning and the cautioning voice. But perhaps our Detroit contemporary somewhat exaggerates, or the Detroit haberdashers are of a peculiarly nervous temperament. It is to be suspected that the average merchant in that line will just go on persuading his customers to invest in belts, commending them not only for their engaging appearance, but also for a justly celebrated talent in guarding the male person against what, even in this age of transparencies and running trunks, must be embarrassing—the loss of one's trousers.

DRINK AND LOW WAGES.

(Kansas City Star.)

Some of the many connections between drink and low wages are illustrated by the reports from the British navy concerning the workers in the naval yards.

Although the British admiralty wants all the work done it can get done, it discourages work on the days when double wages are paid because the workmen who drink loaf other days while spending their double pay.

The incentive to pay men high wages is taken from the employers.

The moral argument of workmen for their right to a decent-living pay is destroyed when their own vice of drinking up all their money destroys their decent living whether they are paid well or not.

The physical ability of the men to force higher wages, both by earning them and by securing the payment of them through individual or collective bargaining is lessened or destroyed by alcohol.

No conscious device of enemies of workingmen could so hold them to underpay as the drink habit.

KELKER DOESN'T KNOW IT.

If He Has Been Left $125,000, He Has Not Been So Informed.

If W. J. Kelker, 656 West Fifth street, an insurance solicitor, has been left $125,000 through the will of J. B. Ellington, who recently died at Racine, Wisconsin, he doesn't know of it. As a matter of fact he is inclined to doubt it, although he hopes that the report is true.

Kelker met Ellington while a fireman on the Grand Rapids and Indiana, eight years ago, at Grand Rapids, Michigan. It seems that Kelker frequently loaned Ellington small sums of money, never more than $4 or $5 at a time. Now the story is told that Ellington, having no relatives, left his entire estate valued at $125,000 to the Fort Wayne man.

BUSINESS MEN HEAR LYON AT NOON MEET

Noon Day Meetings One of the Big Features of Campaign.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 6.—One of the big features of the evangelistic campaign being waged in this city are the noon meetings that are being held in the factories, stores and offices.

At the noon luncheon held in the Central Christian church, Dr. Lyon spoke to a number of business men in part as follows:

"All of the intelligence and intellectuality possible won't make a person a Christian. There is one thing which blinds people more than anything else and prevents them from being Christians—that is sin. Sin blinds the eyes of people so they can't see the good and beautiful in Jesus Christ.

"I used to think the greatest thing was salvation, but now I am convinced it is service. What the world needs is more people to read the Bible. If we had more Bibles on two legs we'd be better off. We don't read the Bible enough."

Dr. Lyon referred in his talk to the way the Greeks, with all their intellectuality, stood aloof and said for Christ to come forward and they would see him. He said the only way people can get things is to go after them. He illustrated this point with a story about a missionary and a soldier who were in India about the same time. One said he had not seen a Christian during his stay in India, but had killed many lions. The other told an opposite story.

"Which all goes to show," said Dr. Lyon, "that we can find what we're seeking. In order to get Christianity we've got to seek it."

Tremendous crowds are in attendance at the tabernacle each evening and interest in the meetings is growing daily.

DUSKY LAUGHMAKER IS MELANCHOLY MAN

Bert Williams, Noted Comedian, Not at All Funny in Private Life.

(By Fred L. Boalt.)

Seattle, Wash., May 6.—I had seen Bert Williams, dusky comedian, a number of times, but always with the footlights between us.

I remembered him from the former "Follies" and vaudeville appearances, not only as the funniest negro I had ever seen on the stage, but as one of the funniest men of any color.

BERT WILLIAMS.

I remembered that he rolled his eyes, and showed the whites of them; that he made grotesque grimaces; that his antics made me laugh. I remembered, particularly, a song he used to sing, in which he implored the woodman to spare that tree—because it was a slippery elm and the only tree his wife could not climb.

I know—or had heard—that he wrote many of his own songs, that he pulled down a fabulous salary, and that certain exclusive hotels about the country, which ordinarily drew the "color line," ignored it when Bert Williams came to town.

I had told myself that Williams was funny because he was a negro. He was, I said in my wisdom, funny because he was happy.

And I was wrong.

I was surprised when I saw him. I expected flamboyant tie and fancy waistcoat, a suit of noisy pattern and extravagant cut. I saw, instead, a tall, well-proportioned colored man, whose dress would not attract attention anywhere.

My second cause for surprise was that he did not patronize me or try to make me laugh. He did not grimace or roll his eyes.

We talked. I wanted to get a line on how a negro felt who is the leading man of a big theatrical organization, in which everybody else is white.

How does any negro feel who has developed faster than others of his race?

He told me of a friend of his back east, a man with only a drop of negro blood in his veins, but who is, nevertheless, in the eyes of society in America, a negro. This man is a lawyer and a writer. He is fairly well-to-do. He has education and refinement.

"He cannot enjoy the society of negroes," said Williams. "If he tried to obtrude himself into the society of white people, he would subject himself to the risk of insult. He is too proud to run such a risk. What is such a man to do?"

We talked of plays and players. The difficulty of being funny when you don't feel funny. Then we discussed books, funny and otherwise. And politics * * * and international politics * * * and the war.

The talk drifted to philosophy. What is to be the "ultimate end" of a world in which Germans and Austrians hate Frenchmen and Russians and in which white men despise black men because of a difference in color of the pigment under their skins?

He was well-read and his mental processes were orderly. He seemed to enjoy discussion. But through his conversation ran a somber note—a note of sadness.

On leaving him, I told him that, off the stage, he was the most melancholy comedian I had ever met. He smiled gloomily and departed for the theater to make folks laugh.

ENFORCES CLOSING ORDER.

Terre Haute Judge Sentences Saloon Keeper to Penal Farm.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 6.—The first saloon keeper to get a jail sentence for violating the closing order issued a few weeks ago by James Gossom, acting mayor of Terre Haute, was Ed Reiff, who was fined $25 and sentenced to sixty days in the state penal farm by Judge Newton. Reiff appealed the case.

William Doyle, who was fined $100 and sentenced to one day in jail by Judge Anderson for complicity in the Terre Haute election frauds, is wanted by the police on a charge of violating the Nicholson law. The police say liquor was sold Saturday night in Doyle's saloon. A renewal of his license was refused to Doyle after his conviction in the federal court, but he appealed. He is a brother of Sylvester Doyle, chief of police.

LURE OF CIRCUS REVEALS SECRET

Ill-Treated Waif from Spain, Silent Mystery, Could Not Resist Attraction.

New York, May 6.—A little brown-eyed, soft-spoken boy of mystery was picked up at the Pennsylvania station on April 7. Frail and none too rugged, his little hands were calloused with work. He seldom smiled and talked less. His olive skin indicated Spanish birth, and once, in an unguarded moment, he mentioned Spain and again Panama.

Taken in charge by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, all efforts to get him to tell his name or where he came from were unavailing. Lovable and pleasant at all other times he became defiant when that subject was broached and doggedly refused to answer.

Then the circus came and with it an inspiration to Superintendent Coultre. He would tempt the boy with the circus and pictures of its wonders were shown to him. On the day of the last performance he yielded. His curiosity overcame his reticence, and he promised to tell all if he could only go.

He was born in Spain and his name is Theodore Devilla. His parents took him to Panama, where his father worked on the canal. One day the father was killed and soon his mother married again.

His stepfather brought them to the United States. They lived at Utica for a time, and the father and boy went to West Virginia, where both worked in a coal mine, although the boy is not yet thirteen and looks ten. His stepfather beat him and he ran away. His mother is still in Utica. He is willing to go to her if she promises not to send him back to his stepfather and the mines.

Superintendent Coulter is communicating with the mother, and, if she consents, he will get a good home here for the boy.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

BAILHE TRIO CONCERT.

No Better Program Has Been Given by Noted Organization.

One of the best programs ever given in this city by the Bailhe Trio, was the concert last night at the Majestic theater. Indeed it is to be questioned by only the keenest of critics whether the trio has ever done anything better than the finale to the Tschaikowsky Trio op. 50, which they rendered in a superb manner last night. It seemed as if Gaston Bailhe had never played with more authority and in numbers like the two Couperin works, a gavotte and a sarabande, where the violin part was predominant, Mr. Bailhe displayed a fire and vigor that was very impressive. In fact the trio played with more abandon to the moods of the music throughout the entire program than at any time this season, anyway. A group by Russian composers was wonderfully effective, running from the plaintive and exquisite melody of the Elegie and "A Tear" to the fire, passionate appeal and rhythm of the Tschaikowsay waltz from the opera 'Eugene Onegunine." The trio has certainly gained in bigness and poise with the addition of Emmeran Stoeber, cellist, who was heard in solo work in a group of three beautiful works, one by Bruch, one by Haydn and a rondo by Dvorak, which was a remarkably effective number temperamentally and technically. Mr. Stoeber gets a tone with plenty of body as well as beauty, and his playing deserved all the enthusiasm that expressed itself in much applause. George Bailhe gave splendid support at the piano for Mr. Stoeber, and throughout the program, apearing, however, in the finale already referred to as the gifted and cultured musician, as well as director of the trio, which he is. Certainly chamber music is receiving an impetus through the work of the Bailhe Trio that speaks for the enjoyment of the most musical portion of the people of this city. The concert of yesterday would command attention and win plaudits in any metropolitan city of the country. A pleasing feature of the program was the singing of three songs by the Mozart Glee club of the Concordia college. The club is composed of young students who sing for the love of it, and who go about it with as much seriousness of purpose as they do their text books. The club was very well received.

Forehead Watch is Latest Fashion Fad

What's the sense of wearing a dainty, bejeweled watch on your forehead when you have to consult a mirror every time you want to know the hour?

The answer, perhaps, is that fashions haven't anything to do with sense anyway.

This odd conceit is the latest feminine fad to be adopted here. Earrings to match the watch are also de rigeur. The little time-piece is pendant on a head band binding the hair.

And when one finds one's attractive self without a mirror it is quite permissable to ask an admiring stranger if he would kindly read the story of the tiny gold hands for the thoughtless possessor of a forehead watch. Few strangers would refuse to perform this charitable service.

AT THE NEW PALACE

MERRY BILL AT NEW PALACE.

Wealth of Fun on the Week-End Program of Summer Vaudeville.

The week-end bill which opened this afternoon at the New Palace promises to be a rarely merry one, as in addition to the always amusing roller skating and wrestling bear, Alice Teddy, who will remain over the remainder of the week, the United Booking offices have sent a delegation of royal entertainers to Fort Wayne. Cole, Russell and Davis, a trio of fun makers extraordinary are appearing in the famous absurdity, "The Bogus Nobles," while Arthur Stone and Marian Hayes have a veritable carnival of fun in store for Fort Wayne in the skit called 'Green Goods." Benny and Woods, violin and piano artists, will prove a delight to local music lovers, and Dotson and Gordon have found an entirely new lode of fun in what they call "syncopated arguments." The B. F. Keith exclusive Jaunts and Journeys will complete the bill.

Praise for Fort Wayne Musicians.

Music News, a Chicago publication of weekly news in the music world of that city, contains in the same issue, that of April 30, notices of Fort Wayne young musical people that will command the attention of their friends. Miss Florence Lang, Miss Louise Linder and Howard Van Sweringen appeared in Thurber hall on April 30. Miss Linder received a notice of commendation but the praise extended the other two performers is given here in full. Says the Music News: "Mr. Van Sweringen, tenor, has made rapid strides in his art, and as a teacher and singer he has gained a fine place for himself. His voice is of good quality, and he uses it with much skill in the interpretation of songs His stage presence is attractive and his personality very ingratiating. He was heard in the opening group, comprising Mendelssohn's "Nachtlied," "Ungeduld" (Schubert) and Grieg's "Johannisnacht." He uses the rarest sort of intelligence in the presentation of songs, and his musicianship is of high order. The interpretations of the Grieg and Mendelssohn numbers were thoroughly artistic and effective. Miss Lang has a voice of good quality and range, over which she has good control, enabling her to express to a nicety the sentiments involved in a varied list of songs. She speaks the French text in a delightful manner, and her singing of numbers by Ferrari, Chaminade, Massenet and Gounod will be remembered as an artistic joy. Notably good were her renditions of "Le Mirior" and "The Serenade." Handel's "Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me," was sung in a favorable light."

Miss Thyra Ruhland was heard within a few weeks ago under auspices of Morning Musical society. The Music News praises are: "Miss Thyra Ruhland, a pupil of Miss Jetnnette Durno, and Miss Klea Orschel, a pupil of Mrs. Charles Krum, were heard in a piano and song program at Thurber hall last Sunday afternoon, and there received the plaudits of a goodly audience of their friends, the commendation being well deserved in both cases. Miss Ruhland has splendid technic; in fact, her technic is much more developed at present than her interpretative ability and was displayed excellently in her program which was well chosen as to variety and effectiveness. All the numbers were played with taste and much display of musicianship, and if none rose to any great emotional heights, all were yet definite in conception and clear in execution. Bach and Mozart, in juxtaposition, were delightful, and the Chopin group disclosed many graces and charms, while the bravoura pieces at the close showed Miss Ruhland at her very best."

AT THE JEFFERSON.

WILLIAM FARNUM IN "THE NIGGER."

Famous Stage and Screen Star at Jefferson in Powerful Drama.

The morning after Edward Sheldon's play, "The Nigger," had been produced at the New theater in New York by that playhouse's famous all-star company, one of the critics said in a laudatory review of the drama, "The greatest of all American plays has been written by a rosy-cheeked youngster just out of college, who was too badly frightened last night to make a speech in response to the thunderous demands of the audience for a few words."

It is not surprising that Mr. Sheldon has turned out a master work in "The Nigger," which is pictured for the Fox corporation with the magnetic star, William Farnum, in the title role. The subject matter of the play has been a profound study with him. He delved deeply into its central situation on the very ground where the action of the drama takes place. The result is a play that is big and vibrant with the convincing reality of truth and sincerity. "The Nigger" deals with basic things touching the highest and lowest physical and moral motives of human nature. With masterly pen Sheldon has createdan epic on that vexed question, "the colored problem."

Would You Rather Be Nice Old Lady's Darling or Gay Young Lady's Slave?

Nixola Greeley-Smith Puts Question Squarely Up to the Young Men of America.

(By Nixola Greeley-Smith.)

New York, May 6.—Is it better to be an old lady's darling or a young woman's slave? And does this choice confront the young men of America today?

Jean H. E. Saint Cyr, aged 29, and just married to the elderly widow of James E. ("Silent") Smith, mother of the duchess of Vizeu and mother-in-law of Prince Miguel of Braganza, pretender to the now defunct throne of Portugal, has answered this question in the affirmative!

Moreover, he has answered it twice in the same way! For his first wife, who died last New Year's day and left him $300,000 was sixty years old!

Young Mr. Saint Cyr is the third husband of the society woman of New York and London, best known as the widow of "Silent" Smith. Her first husband, whom she divorced, was William Rhinelander Stewart. Their marriage occurred in 1879.

Mrs. Saint Cyr recently became a grandmother when the Duchess de Vizeu gave birth to a child.

The first Mrs. Saint Cyr, who left the bulk of her fortune to her young husband, was the widow of Henry Alexander Redfield, a banker of Hartford, Conn. Until her death she lived a life of ideal happiness with Saint Cyr.

Nothing is known of the early history of young Saint Cyr, who claims to belong to an old French family. After his marriage to his first wealthy widow he was seen a great deal at Bar Harbor and at Palm Beach where he electrified society by appearing on alternate days in bathing costumes of baby blue and rose pink. One of his amusements while at Palm Beach was to weight greenbacks with silver and throw them into the water to see negroes dive for them, the divers' reward being the money retrieved from the waves. Aa Bar Harbor the young man appeared in white riding breeches, a pink silk sweater and a drooping Panama hat with a flowing sash around it.

After the death of the first Mrs. Saint Cyr he reappeared at Palm Beach wearing clothes of black crepe and when he bathed his bathing suit was of the deepest mourning.

It was at Palm Beach that he met the widow of "Silent" Smith only a few weeks after his first wife's decease. "Silent" Smith left his widow $3,000,000—and the strange couple who were married in Virginia are now spending a rapturous honeymoon at Atlantic City.

Young men of America, what do you think of the choice of young Saint Cyr? What he thinks of it is fairly well indicated by the fact that he has chosen twice to be an old woman's darling. His friends say that he prefers that role to being a young woman's slave—to toiling, to buy smart clothes and provide theater tickets, rich food and wine, flowers and taxicabs for someone.

It is said young Saint Cyr believes this is the only choice that confronts the young man of today who seeks a wife and that he considers young women hard and selfish, women of middle life kind, experienced, tender and grateful.

It is difficult to think of this strange young fellow's second marriage as dictated by anything but free choice. For why should a man with an independent fortune of $300,000 marry an elderly woman for any other reason than because he loves her.

The Arabs have a proverb that in the love of an old woman there is death. But what do the Arabs know about it anyhow?

AN OLD LADY'S DARLING—OR A YOUNG GIRLS SLAVE?

AT THE COLONIAL

Tremendous Film Drama in Three-Day Engagement at Colonial.

That master artisan of the screen, David W. Griffith, has truly evolved an epic drama in this remarkable presentation of Edgar Allan Poe's thrilling poems, "Annable Lee," and "The Tell-Tale Heart." Griffith received his inspiration from Poe's lines, but it is the Griffith genius for startling, vivid realism in cinematography that makes the play notable. With an art peculiar to him, he has visualized the spirit of Poe: with sharp, tremendous contrasts he has brought to our vision the imagery of Poe's weird bizarre situations, brought into alternately horrible and beautiful relief the mind workings of his inspired characters.

The cast presenting "The Avenging Conscience," is remarkable in the fact that it includes no less than five screen stars who are acknowledged to be Griffith's most accomplished. Of these the best known perhaps are Blanche Sweet and Henry B. Walthall, although Owen Moore, Robert Harron and Mae Marsh are all recognized artists of wide renown. The screen at the Colonial will be occupied by "The Avenging Conscience," today, tomorrow and Saturday.

AT THE MINUET.

"THE LIFE OF OUR SAVIOR."

Pathe's Magnificent Masterpiece at Minuet Today and Tomorrow.

If there is one photoplay that playgoers owe it to themselves to witness, it is the sublimely beautiful visualization of the Life of Christ, filmed in natural colors by the Pathe corporation upon the exact locales where transpired the greatest drama the world has ever known. The cast selected to present the glorious theme has been chosen from the ablest acting stars of Europe, many of whom have appeared for many years in the presentation of the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

The subject is handled in the most authentic and reverent manner and the beautiful story holds the spectator enthralled while teaching a lesson every man, woman and child should know. The conclusion leaves the onlooker feeling better toward mankind, realizing afresh the brotherhood of man too often forgotten in the materialistic struggle.

Special music by three-piece orchestra composed of Helene Spindler, Henry Simon and Wade Verwiere, will render special music during the performances which commence at the following hours: 1, 2:45, 4:30, 6:15, 8 and 9:45.

FRAUD CASES NOL-PROSSED.

Insufficient Evidence in Alaska Coal Land Deals.

Detroit, May 6.—The so-called Alaska coal land fraud cases pending in the United States district court here since 1911, have been nol-prossed at the request of the attorney-general, through his assistant, Ernest Knaebel.

Among the defendants were W. W. McAlpine, Arthur L. Holmes, Albert Roehm, George W. Ross, McCurdy C. Lebeau and Frank D. Andrus, all of Detroit. Indictments returned against the men by a federal grand jury here charged that 640 claims to land in Alaska had been obtained through fraud. It was said at the time that the land was worth $50,000,000.

All of the men indicted were members of a concern formed to deal in Alaska real estate.

The action of the prosecution, it is understood, was caused by lack of evidence.

I have found a successful home treatment for that terrible disease called Pyorrhea or Riggs disease of the gums. Most dentists tell their patients there is no cure for it, that there is no cure for loose teeth, bleeding, spongy, shrinking gums and droppping out of teeth; but I say there is, AND I PROVE IT.

Don't have those teeth pulled. I can save every one of them—make them good, firm, healthy, sound teeth again.

My wonderful home treatment stops the teeth from being loose or wobbly. It has done so in cases where the patient could almost pull his teeth out with his fingers, where the gums were soft and spongy, bleeding and shrinking away from the teeth. All these conditions positively and absolutely disappear. It means the end of your Pyorrhea. There is no pain, no fussing, no waste of a minute's time.

The torture and expense of dentist work—all its grinding, whirring, jamming and nerve touching agony are gone forever. No more plates and bridges. Enjoy good teeth, good chewing and a good stomach once more. If you have any of the symptoms mentioned, then Pyorrhea, sometimes called Riggs disease, is on the way—you are bound to lose your teeth and have to wear those awful false teeth if you don't cure it now. LOLA B. MOORE SAYS HUSBAND FIRED HOME

One of Burned Out Couple Wants Divorce from Cruel Man.

Lola Bertha Moore has begun action in the superior court for divorce from Jesse Moore, and among her numerous allegations is one that he came home drunk Tuesday night and after giving her five blows with a steel frying pan, painfully injuring her and driving her from the house, in some way unknown to her set fire to the dwelling, which was entirely destroyed with its contents, including all her apparel, her gold watch and chain and the household furniture.

She says he has been cruel and inhuman to her since three months after their marriage, has not supported her, compelling her to work for herself and him and that for three years he has been a habitual drunkard, spending all he earns in saloons. She wants $2,000 alimony and her maiden name of Wood. They were married in September, 1911.

Says She Deserted.

Although he provided her with a good home along with his mother in Van Wert, O., and the two appeared to get along well together and his wife seemed contented, Elizabeth C. Harvey packed up while he was away and deserted him and has since refused to return to his bed and board, avers Howard W. Harvey in a divorce complaint filed in the superior court. He says he was employed on the C. H. & D. railroad at the time. He says at the time Mrs. Harvey abandoned him he was preparing to get another home for themselves and that she knew it. They were married May 1, 1912, and she left him April 30, the following year. There are no children.

OPPOSE PENNSYLVANIA PLAN.

Farmers in Vicinity of Hadley Do Not Like Crossing Proposal.

The farmers of the vicinity of Hadley are practically a unit against the Pennsylvania railroad's plans for modifying the dangerous conditions caused by three road crossings of the railroad at Hadley and made it clear at a hearing held by Judge James L. Clark, of the Indiana public service commission, Thursday. The Pennsylvania proposes to abolish three crossings and build a new one to take their place, but this the people are hostile to as creating great inconvenience.

Judge Clark, County Commissioners Butt, Schwier and Black and Attorney Fred E. Zollars and Engineers Hall and Reese, representing the railroad, visited the scene and then returned to the court house for a hearing, most of the people of the vicinity who had met the party at the crossings coming in to give expression to their views. It is believed that Judge Clark will not recommend the Pennsylvania's plans.

TAXPAYING ENDS WELL.

Collection of spring installment of taxes was concluded by County Treasurer J. Herman Bueter and his big force of deputies at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, to which hour the office was kept open for the benefit of the tardy ones. Several thousand dollars were taken in after 6 o'clock. County Auditor Johnson and Wayne Township Assessor Miller also kept open house for the benefit of the belated taxpayers. Treasurer Bueter believes the deliquent list will be the smallest this spring for many years. It will be several days before the treasurer's force gets the total tax receipts compiled.

SUFFRAGISTS CAMP ON WILSON TRAIL

Decline to Be Put Off in Effort to Interview the President.

Washington, May 6.—President Wilson was besieged in the white house today by Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, jr., and Mrs. Harry Lowenburg, two Philadelphia woman suffragists, who refused to accept the word of the secretaries that the president would be unable to receive a delegation of suffragists when he goes to Philadelphia Monday, to address several hundred newly naturalized citizens.

The two women presented their request to the white house yesterday and early today received the president's answer. They returned to the white house several times, insisting that they be allowed to see the president personally and were told that he was busy seeing other callers. They replied that they would remain at the white house until they saw him.

"We came from Philadelphia to lay this request before the president," Mrs. Lowenburg said, "and we will not go back until we have seen him. Our delegation will see the president somewhere in Philadelphia when he goes there. Women suffrage will be voted on next fall and we want the president's assistance."

When the president went to lunch at 1 o'clock and all the secretaries left the executive offices, the two women remained on guard despite the fact that they were told repeatedly that the president would have no time for anything on his trip to Philadelphia except to deliver his address to the aliens.

After a long wait, the two suffragists discovered President Wilson had left for the golf links and they departed promising to return when the president did and renew their vigil.

had not been taken when they were sent.

Secretary Bryan today continued his policy of refusing to discuss the far eastern situation or to reveal to any extent the department's advices. He said, however, that there had been no suggestion of mediation and refused to predict what the course of the United States would be. In other official quarters it was intimated that a tender of good offices would only follow a serious crisis and there was no official information at hand on which to base such action.

From the beginning, however, the United States and Great Britain as well have quietly exerted friendly influences with both China and Japan to bring about an agreement to prevent a serious situation from arising. Beyond those informal efforts the American government has not gone.

Officials here read with interest the news dispatches but while acknowledging the tensity of the situation are known to be awaiting official advices before making any move.

m.)—The military developments of the last week have had a visible effect on popular feeling in Berlin which is decidedly more optimistic. Operations in the Russian province of Courland, on the Baltic; in Galicia and in Belgium indicate that the German forces are taking the offensive on a large scale and that greater events are to be expected.

The Russians are attempting to resist the Austro-German movement eastward in Galicia, having brought up reinforcements from the Carpathians for that purpose. Information received here, however, indicates that the Russians are being swept along before the Teutonic allies or else captured as were the previous defenders of the Russian position.

Austrian reports state that there is in progress a general Russian retreat extending from the positions to the south of Dukla Pass in Hungary where weeks ago the attacks upon an impregnable Austrian front, entailing frightful losses had exhausted the initiative of the invaders.

Further developments in Galicia are awaited here with breathless interest as it is believed the events on this section of the front may give a decisive turn to the entire eastern campaign. The view held here is that the whole Russian position has now become precarious.

The situation at Ypres, Belgium, where the grand duke of Wurttemburg is commanding, is also considered highly promising for the Germans. It is believed here that the British and French will hardly be able to hold the town of Ypres for another week. The Germans are said to have gained nearly three miles during the last few days, their opponents withdrawing slowly before the German infantry and machine gun attacks. Advices from the Belgian front says this retreat in places, is a disorderly one and that numerous dead and wounded soldiers are being left on the ground.

MAKING PROGRESS, SAYS ASQUITH

English Premier Tells House of Commons of Dardanelles Attack.

London, May 6.—(4:20 p. m.)—The operations in the Dardanelles are being pressed forward under highly satisfactory conditions, Premier Asquith told the house of commons this afternoon in a statement of the combined naval and land attacks on Gallipoli.

The steamer Cathay, from Copenhagen for Chinese ports was either mined or torpedoed late last night in the North sea. She went down in twenty minutes. Her passengers and the members of her crew, totalling 43 persons, took to the small boats and all were landed safely at Ramsgate today. The Cathay was a Danish steamer. She was built in 1898 and was of 2,596 tons net register. She measured 296 feet long and was owned in Copenhagen.

The schooner Earl of Latham was sunk by a German submarine off Kinsale, on the Irish coast. The crew was permitted to take to the small boats, and was rescued by a trawler. The submarine fired six shells at the schooner before she sank.

The trawler, Stratton, of Grimsby, was sunk in the North sea yesterday by the gun fire of a German submarine. The crew was taken on board the submarine.

For the first time since the British forced the Germans from hill No. 60, near Ypres, the soldiers of Emperor William have been partly successful in their counter attacks and no advices to the contrary having been received, it is assumed that the Germans are still holding today the positions they obtained upon the hill by the use of asphyxiating gases.

In the meanwhile the German line to the east of Ypres is within three miles of the town. The British press does not seek to deny or minimize the persistency of this German offensive, but there is no disposition to lament the drawing in of the British front to the eastward and the northeastward of Ypres, which was the only alternative to a successful counter attack. Confidence is expressed that the new British alignment will prove beneficial in view of the hard fighting which is expected.

HONOR AFTER MANY YEARS

of fruit trees whose yield today forms so important a part of the annual products of Ohio.

Wore an Old Coffee Sack.

Johnny lived the roughest life, camping out in the woods, or, if sleeping in the house, occupying the floor; his dress was an indescribable medley, composed of cast-off clothing he had taken in exchange for apple trees. In latter years this second-hand raiment he thought too luxurious and he wore as a principal garment an old coffee sack, in the bottom and sides of which he cut holes to thrust his head and arms through. He thought this a cloak good enough for any man to wear. He seldom wore shoes, except in winter. For traveling on rough roads he wore a rude pair of sandals. He bought no covering for his feet, used old cast-off boots or shoes, generally unmatched, and wore them while they would stick to his feet. He made his own head-gear. For a long time he wore the large tin dipper in which he cooked his mush while traveling. But it failed to shade his face from the sun. Hence he made a hat of pasteboard, with an immense peak in front, and bent down at the sides to protect his face from the heat.

Did Not Fear Death.

Johnny lead a blameless and moral life and likened himself to the primitive Christians, literally taking no thought of the morrow. The physician who was present at his death was heard to inquire what was Johnny Appleseed's religion; he had never seen a man in so placid a state at the approach of death, and so ready to enter upon another life.

The eccentric character planted out two nursuries on the Maumee river, in this county, about four miles east of New Haven, and one at Ox Bow bend, near the state line.

Now in recognition of what he has done in laying the foundation for making Ohio one of the great apple states of the country, the Ohio Apple Growers' association propose to erect a monument at his grave in the Archer cemetery on the old John Archer farm, north of Fort Wayne.

of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, for his part in the 1914 shopmen's strike.

"Mr. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen—I should call him brother, but don't because it's a disgrace," said Pierce, "came to Harrisburg and addressed a joint meeting of shopmen and transportation men. Lee said to those men that if the Pennsylvania railroad discharged one of the shopmen for joining the union, 'we have 35,000 union transportation men and $3,500,000 in the treasury and will use every dollar and every man against the railroad if they discharge those shopmen.' The trainmen said to the shopmen: 'Strike and we'll go with you.' But the trainmen did not strike with them. If ever a man was guilty of high treason against fellows it is W. G. Lee. He is the cause of suicides, great loss of property and the breaking up of homes."

Commissioner Aishton urged that Lee have an opportunity to answer the charge if he desired. Chairman Walsh said the testimony would be sent to Mr. Lee.

S. C. Long, general manager of the Pennsylvania, reiterated statements on the Pennsylvania's labor policy toward labor made yesterday by Vice President Atterbury.

LOCALS GRAB ANOTHER AS SEA ROLLS HIGH

Ball Park Stage Was Set for Ark Act and Robbins Wins.

With a heavy sea rolling and the weather too thick for safety, Boatswain Bierhalter at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon piped all hands on deck and the good ship League park sailed away on schedule time. A considerable amount of weather had collected about the old boat in the twenty-four hours previous to the sailing, and it was only by the use of corks and life lines that the seamen were able to navigate.

But in spite of the weather and the large and gaping spots of vacancy in the stands the game was a snappy one, and demonstrated that Bade Myers knew what he was doing when he forked over a sum of money for one Russell Robbins, hurler. Robbins worked for the locals, and although he opened a little wild, before the game was over he had eleven strike-outs chalked up to his credit. The big left-hander is the best little mound proposition in the league, and with development along one or two lines in the hands of our own Mr. Myers there will be few hurlers like him in the country. Since joining the locals Robbins has lost practically all the wildness that accounted for him not going to Chicago this season.

The locals shut out Grand Rapids, the final tally standing 3 and 0 at the end of one hour and fifty-five minutes of playing and half again that much time waiting between showers. The locals hit Romine freely, and only three strike-outs are charged to him, while the visitors' greatest difficulty was connecting with Robbins' twists and turns.

Two in the Third.

In the third inning, with one out, Hartle drove a single to center and no sooner had Beyers come to bat than Hartle stole second. He negotiated third on a passed ball and Beyers' infield hit shot him across the plate. Although the swat Beyers landed did not send the ball out of the infield, Callahan threw wildly in the general direction of first and Beyers got to second on the error. Tuman sent one to right that scored Beyers.

All was calm till the sixth, when Bratchi singled and was sacrificed to second by Holderman. He went to third on Hartle's out and came across on Hartsell's single to left. The score:

NEW RULE NOW IN ELIMINATION TEST

Will Make Indianapolis Entrants Hump Themselves to Limit.

Indianapolis, May 6.—With the entry list for the next Indianapolis 500-mile race a closed book, the attention of racing fans is next drawn to the elimination trials for the contest, aMy 20, 21 and 22, which will reduce the field to the maximum number of thirty-three.

Eight of the forty-one cars nominated (including the "unknown"), will fall by the wayside, either because they cannot make the speedway's eighty mile an hour minimum for a lap, or else because they are not quite as fast as their rivals. A fraction of a second's difference in time may prove the end for some of them.

Added interest is attached to the elimination trials this year, because of the rule which numbers cars and ranges them at the starting line on race day with reference to their speed, the fastest car receiving No. 1 and being placed in first position, next the pole.

It is thought this rule will make all the entrants hump themselves to the limit, regardless of whether they are sure of a place in the line-up or not, as a position well in front will give them unquestioned advantage, especially if they are in the first row.

Trials will be held in the inverse order of entry, as last year, the last car starting first and the first car last. This is to give the early entrants some compensation for their promptness in reporting.

SNATCHES OF THE GAME.

"Did you ever notice," asked the wise old owl in the bleachers, "that left-handed pitchers are either very good or very bad? You never heard of one that was 'just so-so.' Robbins is the very good kind. He has had trouble with his wildness ever since he was in baseball, and since he joined the local squad Bade Myers seems to be knocking this out of him. Once this disappears and Mr. Robbins is no longer a member of the Central. He's going up."

The Cubs play at Monroeville this afternoon, and Friday morning they go to Wheeling and from there cover the eastern circuit. They hit Dayton after Wheeling, and then Erie and then Youngstown, and come home in about two weeks.

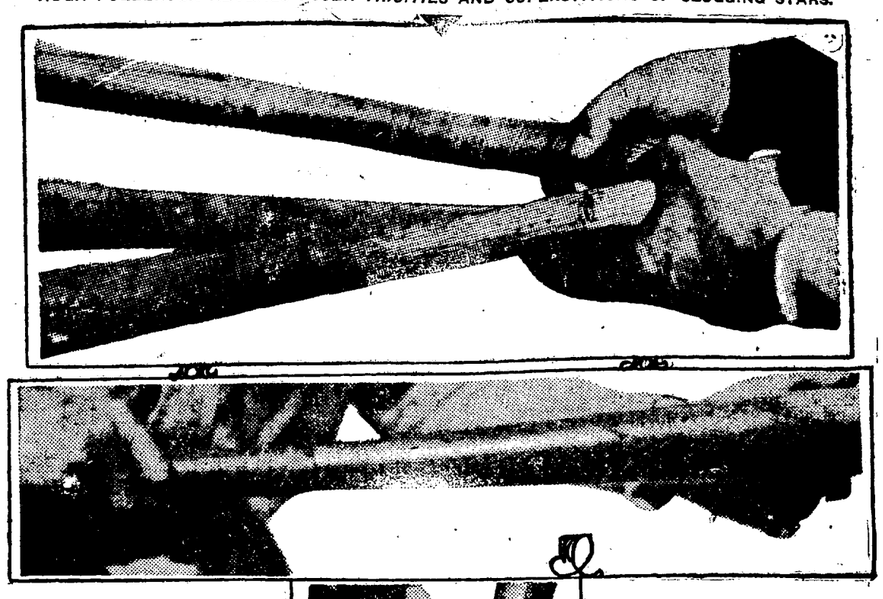
John Tuman looks better every day. He is playing out of his position, and is naturally having a hard time, but he is coming in with a nice little hit every now and then and seems to be warming up to the outfield.

Beyers continues to hit like a fiend, and there is little doubt but that he will remain in the first group in the lead in stick work.

Stellbauer did another one of his little sensations in the game Wednesday when he climbed into the air and pulled down a hard one Red Smith, alias Smyth, sent out in his general direction.

HOW THE CHAMPION BATTERS GRIP THE OLD WAR STICK

HUGH FULLERTON REVEALS ECCEN TRICITIES AND SUPERSTITIONS OF SLUGGING STARS.



How Ty Cobb grips his pet war club. Top picture, Cobb swinging Crawford's, Bush's and his own. Middle picture, the final "weighting" of the club. Below, waiting to step into a fast one.

(By Hugh Fullerton).

Who steals my purse, steals trash; but he who pilfers from me my favorite bat pinches that which makes a busher of a star.—Heine Shakespeare.

There is one thing a professional baseball player values more highly than he does his batting average and that is his favorite bat.

Ty Cobb, for instance. When he leaves the bench he picks up three bats, his own, which is slender, light in the handle, and a "toothpick" up to the very spot he wants the ball to hit. Donie Bush's long, light, thin bat, "for luck," and Sam Crawford's formidable war club, for luck and weight.

He grips these three bats in his intertwined fingers and swings them back and forth. He throws Crawford's bat back toward the bench, swings two bats, throws Bush's bat back and runs to the plate swinging his own. The ball player theory of swinging three bats is that after three have been swung one will feel lighter.

At bat Cobb grips his thin, light club firmly with his right hand and instantly slides his left hand up and down the bat until it grips two inches above the right hand.

He uses exactly the grip in batting a baseball that Baird does in gripping a golf club and beyond doubt his "follow through" is what adds to the driving power of the great golfer.

Frank Chance had a lot of peculiar habits. He would stop outside the batter's box, lean his bat against himself, adjust his cap tightly upon his head, jerk his belt, hitch up his trousers, pull his cap again, step into position, hitch his trousers, beat the end of his bat three times upon the plate and then he was ready.

There is quite as much superstition among modern ball players as among the old-timers. I remember Pietro Gladiator Browning, the greatest of them all in his day, who had to have a certain kind of chewing tobacco.

There was big Roger Connor, who used to take his bats to bed with him and after oiling and rubbing them down for the night would hang them out the window.

Jimmy Ryan, one of the greatest of the old-timers, had to have a bat with a red band on it and three worm holes showing somewhere in the wood.

One day in Boston we searched school stores and small places for two days seeking the kind of bat he wanted and when we found it he made three home runs in the next game.

Ed Delehanty, oddly enough, never was superstitious about his bat; he would use anything that had weight and drive to it.

Larry Jajoie is much the same way. He favored certain bats and when they failed him he would give them away.

Wagner has his favorite weight and model of bat but is likely to grab any piece of wood that is handy and rush to the plate with it and hit.

Frank Schulte has a special model bat, much like that of Cobb, and he always has claimed the change of model by the maker stopped him from hitting home runs the season he came to a tie with the league record.

Joe Jackson has a bat shaped very much on the Cobb style, but heavier.

Cap Anson always used a bat of remarkable weight constructed of split bamboo with a solid core.

STEWART OUTPOINTS STEVE KETCHEL

Jackson, Mich., May 6.—Hal Stewart, of Fort Wayne, Ind., outpointed Steve Ketchel, of Grand Rapids, last night here in a fast bout that kept the spectators up and jumping from the first bell. Stewart landed two blows to his opponent's one, and although Ketchel was pretty badly battered he stood up through the mill. He fought blindly and swung repeatedly at the spot Stewart had just left.

Lubricating Troubles —and their cure!

The Standard Oil Company is making a motor oil that has done away with all common lubricating troubles.

Seven years ago their experts placed this new but tested oil on the market. 1,100 gallons were sold the first year. Then motorists found it out.

1909's demand was for 335,000 gallons—1910's was for 1,118,400. In 1914 nearly 7,000,000 gallons were used in the Middle West alone.

Polarine has gained in sales an average of a million gallons yearly simply because its use eliminated the annoyance and delays incident to unsuitable lubricating oils. Hundreds of thousands of good cars have been saved from the scrap heap by its use. Use it in your motor. See what it does.

Polarine maintains the correct lubricating body at every motor speed and temperature.

It is produced by experts, with the help of perfect facilities, in the largest plant of its kind in the world.

ELKS' MAY FESTIVAL
BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Two hundred couples attended the May festival given by Fort Wayne lodge, No. 155, B. P. O. E., at the home on West Berry street, Wednesday evening, the event being one of the most brilliant events of the season.

A large May pole was erected in the center of the banquet room, which was beautifully decorated with the season's flowers. Natural flowers were given to the ladies as favors.

A musical entertainment was given by M. F. Noll and family, including a trombone solo by Harvey Sawyer. Music was also furnished by Roembke's orchestra.

Gaylord S. Morton, secretary of the lodge, has received word that James E. Watson, of Rushville, will be unable to be here for the silver anniversary to be held on Thursday, May 20. Another prominent speaker will be secured to take his place on the program.

A session of the lodge will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and following the initiation of a large class of candidates the Elks' band will give a concert. The banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock with Major G. Will Wilson as toastmaster.

Members of the local order will go to the annual state convention to be held at Michigan City, June 3, in a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad. Before the special train can be secured, however, one hundred tickets must be sold. Members of the Bluffton and Huntington lodges will accompany the local delegation.

A meeting of the committee in charge of the silver anniversary celebration will be held Friday evening.

WILL SEEK HABEAS CORPUS.

New Efforts to Free Roberts and Redman is Planned.

Leavenworth, Kas., May 6.—An attempt to free former Mayor Donn M. Roberts and Judge Eli Redman from the federal prison here, will be made on a habeas corpus writ. Frank B. Fippen, one of the attorneys for defense in the Terre Haute election fraud cases, announced last night. Roberts and Redman were sentenced to the penitentiary on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the election at Terre Haute last November.

Fippen said he would contend that the federal law, under which the prisoners were convicted is void, because it interferes with state rights, and that the indictments of Roberts and Redman were improperly drawn.

Mrs. Roberts is in Kansas City with relatives. She will visit her husband at the prison today.

NIGHT SCHOOL TO CLOSE.

International Business College Has Had a Successful Term.

The night school that the International Business college has conducted will close during the month of May, the term being one of the most successful that the school has ever had. As a matter of fact every department of the school has been flourishing during the past year. In addition to the regular work, a series of lectures is being arranged for the month to be given by members of the faculty and local business men.

At the close of the month certificates of proficiency will be issued to those students who have completed the prescribed course in the night school, in either the stenographic or commercial departments. There will be perhaps fifty students who will receive these certificates. The night school term begins the first week in September of each year and runs for nine months.

It is prompt in action; safe and sure. Contains no opiates. Dreier Drug Co.—Adv.

HEIDER INDICTED FOR MAIL THEFTS

Indianapolis, Ind., May 6.—Federal authorities in Indianapolis have taken official notice of the right of a girl in Toledo, Ohio, to the possession of an organdie dress, a white silk waist, some girdles and handkerchiefs, and as a result Albert C. Heider, of Fort Wayne, now faces a charge of robbing the mails.

The dress and other articles, the authorities say, were mailed to Miss Persis Bond by her mother, who lives in Fort Wayne. It is charged that while the package was in transit, it was stolen. Heider was indicted for the theft by the federal grand jury yesterday.

Eight others were indicted by the grand jury, among them William Davern, who is charged with perjury. Davern appeared as a witness for the defense in the Terre Haute election fraud case and is said to have admitted that his testimony in that case was false. He is at liberty under bond.

All those indicted will be arraigned in federal court here May 10.

THEY ARE 70 YEARS OLD.

"For some time past my wife and myself were troubled with kidney trouble," writes T. B. Carpenter, Harrisburg, Pa. "We suffered rheumatic pains all through the body. The first few doses of Foley Kidney Pills relieved us. After taking five bottles between us we are entirely cured. Although we are both in the seventies we are as vigorous as we were thirty years ago." Foley Kidney Pills stop sleep disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, dizziness, swollen joints and sore muscles. Dreier Drug Co.—Adv.

HUSBAND AND WIFE KILLED.

Auto of Wealthy Philadelphian Stalls on Rail Crossing.

Ambler, Pa., May 6.—Philip Mercer Maloney, thirty-eight, a wealthy Philadelphia iron merchant, and his wife, were killed last night when their automobile, which had stalled on a grade crossing, near here, was struck by an express train on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad. Something went wrong with the motor car near the crossing, but after making repairs, Mr. Maloney started again. The machine stopped again directly in front of the approaching train.

BABY'S FACE BROKE OUT WITH PIMPLES

Itched and Burned. Fretful and Restless. Impossible to Sleep Nights. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Face as Well as Ever.

Glenburn, N. Dak.—"My baby's face began to break out with pimples which turned into sores. The pimples were small and festered. They itched and burned so that she scratched them. She was fretful and restless and kept scratching them while she slept. It became so bad that it was impossible for her to sleep nights.

"I began by bathing her face with ——— and water and then applying ——— but as it kept growing worse I got a prescription of some kind of salve. Still her face got worse. I read of Cuticura Soap and Ointment so tried them. After the second application I could notice an improvement and in less than two weeks her face was as well as ever without a scar." (Signed) Mrs. Sidney Turner, June 5, 1914.

Suppose We Pared These Tires

Suppose this All-Weather tread —now double-thick—was pared to the thinness of the usual anti-skid. Would it endure like this one? Or so resist puncture?

Suppose we used—as some do —one less fabric ply. Or made the whole tire lighter. Suppose we omitted our exclusive features:

Our No-Rim-Cut feature—
Our "On-Air" cure—
Our rubber rivets—
Our 126-piano-wire base.

All rivals do omit them. All of them are costly. Our "On-Air" cure alone costs us $450,000 yearly to save needless blowouts. But could Goodyear Fortified Tires retain top place if we did not give those extras?

Cost-Added Prices Lowered

Instead of that, we all the time add costly betterments. We spend on experts $100,000 yearly to seek out new improvements.

Our All-Weather tread — always double-thick — is made still thicker in some sizes.

Our Inner Tubes have been thickened 14 per cent on the average.

Our fabric has been strengthened.

Yet on February 1st we made our third big price reduction in two years, bringing the total to 45 per cent. Now you are getting in Goodyear Fortified Tires the best value ever known in tire making.

It is due to yourself that you this year join this army of contented tire users. It is by far the largest army in Tiredom. Any dealer will supply you. (2331)

SENTINEL WANT ADS ALWAYS GET RESULTS

SHOP AND RAIL ROAD NEWS

INAUGUARATING THE HOME CARD ROUTE

Nickel Plate Superintendent Watterson Out Instructing Agents.

A special train bearing some Nickel Plate officials is making a trip over the Fort Wayne division today, for the purpose of disseminating information concerning the new home route card proposition, described by The Sentinel two weeks ago. In the party today are W. A. Collie, superintendent of car service; H. A. Macbeth, superintendent of motive power; W. G. Black, master mechanic, and W. F. Watterson, division superintendent. They left Bellevue at 8 o'clock this morning and will reach Fort Wayne about 5 o'clock this evening. They will stop at every station and explain the home card route to the agents and leave some of the cards with them. "When this system is in full operation we will have less trouble handling cars," said one of the officials. "It will save empty car mileage and hasten the movement of cars to their home line."

DISPATCHING BY TELEPHONE.

G. R. & I. Commence It on Part of Line Sunday.

J. F. Betts, division operator of the G. R. & I., is out on the northern end of the division today, instructing telegraph operators how to handle train dispatching and blocking by telephone between Wolcottville and Grand Rapids. The telephone system being installed by the company is ready for operation between those points and will go into service at 7 o'clock next Sunday morning. Mr. Betts is making the trip over the line on a motor car. Supt. B. H. Hudson said that the other portion of the southern division from Wolcottville to Richmond, would probably be completed and put into service Sunday, May 23. It is the intention, when the telephone line is finished, to do all train dispatching work and blocking by telephone, thus facilitating the work and making congestion of the line in busy times less likely to occur than when dispatching is performed by the telegraph alone. The latter will be used for messages and in emergency cases by the dispatchers when the telephone is out of commission.

SMALL CREW LIST.

Pennsylvania Has Only Fifty on Freight Board.

The freight crew list of the Pennsylvania at present is the smallest within the recollection of the present force. There being only fifty regulars and five extra engineers on the list. This morning three more regular engineers were put back to firing on passenger engines. They were O. R. Leedy, L. F. Wood and C. T. Lake. This reduction was followed by other changes. F. Butz, F. H. Dressell and N. E. Nestle were transferred from the regular list of passenger firemen to the extra list and Daniel Shepler, E. G. Ludwig and I. A. Herber, who were extra passenger firemen, have been put back to the freight service. M. W. DeWitt, E. O. Snell, O. H. Wiese and C. A. Traster, freight firemen, have been furloughed. "The good health of the engineers and firemen in the regular service of the Pennsylvania is unprecedented," said one of the extras. "None are ever sick or lay off for other purposes and the poor extra gets little work."

TESTING HEADLIGHT.

Some tests of locomotive headlights were made at Arcola last night, under the direction of Master Mechanic F. T. Huston, of the Pennsylvania. Assisting in the work were Master Mechanic Adam Lamar and Assistant Road Foreman of Engines Fynn, of the Chicago Terminal; George Bradley, special man in the transportation department, and Engineer C. W. Larimore. They had engine 7215 and did not complete the tests and return to the city until a late hour.

Christen and William Moeller, machinists in the air brake room of the Pennsylvania, and expert authority on anything pertaining to mushrooms, will make an excursion to Hesse Cassel in search of them. On a similar trip some time ago, they bagged over a peck of luscious bulbs.

It was also announced that carpenters for that work are needed and that the repairs will be made on a piece-work basis.

GAS STEALERS ARE TO BE PROSECUTED

Indiana Lighting Company Begins Campaign on Robbers.

The Indiana Lighting company has opened a campaign on gas stealers in Fort Wayne and the first of several affidavits that will be filed was taken to the circuit court Thursday afternoon by Prosecuting Attorney Harry H. Hilgeman. In it S. E. Mulholland, manager of the Lighting company, charges that David Byerle, of Barthold street, stole gas of the value of $1. It was found it is said that at the Barthold street house a pipe had been carried through the foundation wall and that gas was being burned from the end of the pipe to warm the cellar, where some work was in progress. The charge of petit larceny is the only one that applies to the case as there is no specific law in Indiana against stealing gas. Nor are there any decisions in this state on gas stealing, although it has been upheld in other states that gas is subject to larceny.

Manager Mulholland, when asked concerning the affidavit against Byerle, said that the Indiana Lighting company has been extensively a victim of gas stealing for a long time and that the suit is the beginning of an effort to break up the practice of getting gas without payment. He said that this species of robbery was more common than would be believed. Frequently persons are found who use gas for domestic and other purposes by tapping the pipes or turning on the gas unknown to the company and using it without stint. He cited one instance where an investigation disclosed that a householder had piped gas into his furnace and was consuming an enormous quantity to heat his residence.

There is a statute against altering gas connections by any one unauthorized to do so, but it is practically a dead letter because the prosecution must be against the person actually making the alteration.

SUFFRAGE IS CAUSE FOR RACE SUICIDE

Women in Instinctive Rebellion, According to Leader.

New York, May 5.—"The crusade for equal suffrage is doubtless a cause for the drop in the birth rate," Mrs. Carroll Beckwith, wife of the noted artist, said yesterday. A loyal woman suffragist and a member of the Twilight Sleep association, she yielded no ground to the need of votes for women in taking this stand.

"You think that small families are a sign of the rebellion of women against present conditions?"

"Yes, not a conscious rebellion, but an instinctive one. Women are not saying to themselves or to others, 'We will contribute no soul to a community and a country that is being mismanaged,' but that is a deep part of their consciousness.

"It is no strike, such as has been contemplated by some radical leaders of feminine thought, but an instinct to spare children the struggle of growing up amid and coping with conditions that obtain in a man-made and man-administered government.

"I sincerely believe this is a temporary phase. I am convinced that when this country shall have suffrage for women there will follow a notable rise in the birth rate."

Inspection of the old walls of the palace of the Louvre disclosed that reinforced concrete was known and used in Paris in the sixteenth century.

The number of workmen killed in the quarries and metal and coal mines of this country in 1912 was 3,234, which averaged 3.22 for each 1,000 employed. This does not contemplate those injured.

THREE SALARY LISTS MAY BE INVALIDATED

If Park List is Illegal, the Water and Light Departments Are.

Legal authorities who have examined the state laws and the ordinances establishing minimum and maximum salary lists for the waterworks, municipal lighting and park departments say that if the park list ordinance, over which there is now a controversy, is illegal, the other two similar ordinances are. The clause in the new park board law conferring on the city council the power to create certain offices and positions of employment and fix the salaries thereof is identical with the clause in the public utilities law covering the same points. The law says the board of works may employ certain officials and employes "at and for such compensation as may be fixed by such ordinance," referring to any ordinance the council is empowered to pass for that purpose, and the park law, defining the full and exclusive powers of the park board, says that it shall have authority to appoint "a secretary at a salary of $1,500 per annum, which may be increased by the council of such city to $2,000 per annum, and such other employes, clerks, engineers, surveyors, superintendents of parks, landscape architects and attorneys as may be authorized by ordinance of the council of said cities and at such compensation as may be fixed by such council."

The council some weeks ago passed ordinances fixing the salaries of officials and employes in the waterworks and lighting departments and these ordinances have been in effect. A similar ordinance for the park department was passed at the last meeting of the council and Mayor Hosey has refused to sign it, holding that it is illegal. Because the ordinance still wants the mayor's approval, Comptroller W. C. Baade has not paid the salaries of Park Board Secretary Charles J. Steiss, Park Superintendent Carl J. Getz, Assessment Bureau Chief Estella Breedon Baker and Record Clerk Miss Schmidt, refusing to issue warrants for them on Wednesday, when pay was due.

President William A. Bayer, of the city council, has asked City Attorney Guy Colerick for a written opinion as to the legality of the park board ordinance and it will be given in writing. Upon this will probably depend whether or not a new ordinance must be passed so that the park board officials and employes named can get their pay. If City Attorney Colerick holds that park board ordinance is invalid it will be necessary to correct the salary ordinances for the waterworks and lighting departments.

NEW TRACTION FRANCHISE.

State Street Tracks to Go to Center of the Thoroughfare.

The most important business for the board of public works Thursday evening will be the granting of a new franchise to the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for its tracks on State street from the St. Joe river to the eastern terminus of the line. This franchise is as much urged by the board as by the company, as the design of it is to get the street car tracks moved from the sides to the center of the street, which is to be paved this year. When the county commissioners granted the franchise about twenty years ago, which was not then in the city, it stipulated that the tracks should be built along the side of the thoroughfare. This was done and for a part of the distance the tracks are along the south edge of the street and for a part on the north edge. The new franchise will not abate any other conditions and will impose upon the traction company all the conditions that apply in the franchises granted in 1903 to the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley company, as to paving, maintenance and the like. The franchise will have to go the usual course as prescribed by the state utilities law.

MAKING GOOD RECOVERY.

Columbia City Woman Had Swallowed Nails in Desperation.

Mrs. G. B. Widdifield, of Columbia City, who recently submitted to an operation at the Lutheran hospital for the removal of a quantity of nails from her stomach which she had swallowed, is making a good recovery and has returned to her home.

The case was a most unusual one. Mrs. Widdifield swallowed the nails while in the desperation of grief over the death of a member of her family.

Two new members have been admitted to membership in the musicians' union and three applications are on file to be acted on at the next regular meeting. The membership of the union is now 216.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, May 6.—Wheat values showed a hardening tendency today as a result of comparatively firmness in quotations at Liverpool. The opening, which varied from the same as last night to ⅝c higher, was followed by additional gains and then a reaction.

Corn developed weakness owing to selling pressure from local speculators. After opening ¼c off to a shade advance, the market made a slight upturn, but soon underwent a sag all around.

Favorable crop report gave the bears an advantage in oats. Buyers were scarce.

Provsions averaged lower with hogs. Longs realized quite freely.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 6.—Partial recoveries from yesterday's late selling movement were recorded during the day's trading on the stock exchange, although the movement as a whole was decidedly irregular. Pressed Steel Car rose two points and Westinghouse, Crucible Steel and Amalgamated Copper a point each. Bethlehem Steel added six points to its material rise of the preceding session. Leaders like U. S. Steel, Union Pacific and Great Northern opened with fractional gains but these were soon lost as a result of recurrent weakness in Reading. The general list receded moderately after initial offerings had been absorbed.

Foreign affairs continued to exert an unfavorable influence, Italy's attitude and the situation in the far east giving rise to further apprehension. This was reflected in the market's feverish undertone, important stocks selling under yesterday's low quotations, while Steel, Union Pacific and other leaders showed even greater weakness. Trading was largely of a professional character.

AUBURN NEWS.

Auburn, Ind., May 6.—Rev. A. P. Bourns, the new Presbyterian minister, has been asked to deliver the Memorial day address.

More complications have arisen in the famous Heffner damage case which has occupied the attention of the court the last few terms. Joseph Heffner was accused of stealing from the B. & O., but was not convicted, and then sued the company for damages. He was awarded $2,000, but the railroad took the case higher up. This court made the same findings, and the money was paid, but in the meanwhile Haffner had died. The fight now on is as to who gets the money.

New York, May 1.—An ode to the pedal extremeties of the prettiest girl in New York—this in a staid, highbrow literary publication!

It is only one phase of the furore stirred up by the dancing of Frances Pritchard, the unintended star in one of New York's new musical comedies, "The Peasant Girl."

Frances Pritchard danced blithsomely onto the stage one day from Maryland, and New York sat up and took notice! Emma Trentini had been advertised as the star. Nobody advocated special attention to little Frances Pritchard. But Frances simply smiled and danced with youthful abandon, and straightway every male member of the audience lost his heart.

FRANCES PRITCHARD, THE UNINTENDED STAR IN "THE PEASANT GIRL."

A new beauty, a fresh and charming beauty, had been discovered! Today there is not a dissenting voice in the chorus that hails Frances Pritchard as the prettiest girl on the New York stage. And she has brought a big lesson to Broadway. She demonstrates that the star of a musical comedy can be simple, natural, free from pose and affectation, and still make the hit of the season. Frances Pritchard, the new American beauty, might be a native shepherdess, from an old painting, in her appearance on the stage.

MARION TOWNSHIP SHOWS A DECREASE

Marion township made a poor showing in the school enumeration just completed, according to the figures filed with D. O. McComb, county superintendent, Thursday. The township has made a loss of thirty-three, the total enumeration for 1915 being 367 as compared with 420 in 1914.

Only three townships have reported and the others are expected to come in before the end of the week with the exception of the enumeration being taken in Fort Wayne. The county superintendent is confident that the county will show an increase in the number of children under twenty-one years of age. The enumeration being taken in Fort Wayne is not showing up as well, however, although it is still believed that there will be a slight gain. The gain will not be as large as in former years.

GERMANS BEGIN GENERAL RETREAT; 50,000 TAKEN

AUSTRIANS CONTINUE VICTORIOUS ADVANCE

Petrograd Admits Seriousness of Situation in One of Greatesi Encounters of War

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The battle in western Galicia, launched a few days ago with an Austro-German attack from the Cracow region, has developed into one of the greatest encounters of the war. Petrograd dispatches admit the situation is a serious one, although it is asserted there that the advance has been checked. At Vienna and Berlin, however, it is said the Russians have begun a general retreat, that their whole position in the Carpathians is precarious and that the eastern campaign may turn on the events of the next few days.

Vienna advices say a desperate battle continued all day yesterday and that the Austrians and Germans took one position after another from the Russians.

The German invasion of the Baltic provinces of Russia, which is regarded lightly in Petrograd, is said in Berlin to be an important movement under the personal direction of Field Marshal von Hindenburg. His aim is believed to be the capture of Libau and Riga, which would enable him to harass Russian communication with Petrograd.

In Belgium further gains have been made by the Germans. The official French statement concedes the Germans won positions on the disputed hill, No. 60, near Ypres, and that the British were able to retake only part of them. Sharp fighting is in progress elsewhere along the western front, but apparently without decided changes.

Vienna, May 6.—The victorious Austrian advance continues on the west Galician front according to an official announcement made by the war office today. Russian prisoners to the number of 50,000, have been taken.

A battle of the most desperate character continued all night long and throughout yesterday without a break, on the west Galician front. The Austro-German armies continued to gain ground on the southern section of the battle front, capturing position after position from the Russians.

SERIOUS, SAYS PETROGRAD.

Petrograd, May 6.—With intermittent activity, consisting chiefly of intense artillery fire along the whole front from the Baltic provinces to the Austrian crownland of Bukowina, the Germans are developing a most serious movement in large force from the region of the Austrian fortress of Cracow, in the direction of the river Dunajec. The Germans succeeded in forcing the river but, according to Russian advices, they were effectively checked on the east bank by artillery fire.

In number of troops and pieces of artillery and generally through the vigorous character of the movement, this offensive eclipses all the other scattering maneuvers which the Germans have been employing in an attempt to dislodge the Russians from the Carpathian mountains.

On May 2, German forces in a hurricane advanced until they approached within 200 paces of the Russian trenches near Gorlice. There, though badly crippled by Russian artillery, they held their positions until nightfall.

In the region of Opatow and Lopuszno and at other points on this front between the upper Vistula and the Carpathians, fierce fighting is being recorded. After long artillery engagements the outcome of these battles usually is decided by bayonet encounters. A furious engagement near Gorlice, still continues undecided while to the eastward along the Carpathian front at Mezolaborcz, Koziowka and Galovetski, the heights changed hands three times before the Russians obtained permanent possession of them on May 3.

Temperance Forces Active in Western Section of the City.

As the result of a movement started some days ago by temperance forces in the western section of the city, an effort to make the Fifth ward of Fort Wayne dry territory is now under way.

It is said that remonstrances against the sale of liquor within the ward are now in circulation and are being liberally signed.

The Fifth ward embraces that section west of Broadway between the Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate tracks, including "Nebraska." Some eleven or twelve saloons are now located in the ward.

GRAVE OF "JOHNNY APPLESEED" IN WHOSE MEMORY OHIO APPLE GROWERS WILL ERECT MONUMENT.

The above is a picture of the Archer cemetery on the old John Archer farm north of Fort Wayne. The cross indicates the location of the grave of "Johnny Appleseed," to whose memory the Ohio Apple Growers' association will erect a monument.

HONOR AFTER MANY YEARS

Stone Will Soon Mark the Grave of "Johnny Appleseed" Here.

APPLE-GROWERS OF OHIO RAISE FUND

Will Erect Shaft in Old Archer Cemetery Near Fort Wayne.

Members of the Ohio Apple Growers' association are now engaged in raising a fund for the purpose of erecting a monument at the grave of Jonathan Chapman, better known as "Johnny Appleseed," who died in Allen county in 1847. "Appleseed" is buried on the old John Archer farm north of Fort Wayne. He came to this vicinity about the year 1828.

Chapman was born in Boston about the year 1775. He early drifted to western Pennsylvania, where in its wild frontier life his mania for planting apple seeds was first discovered. Tired of the rapid settlement of the wilderness he soon pushed out for the west. In 1801 he visited Ohio with a load of apple seeds, which he had gathered from the cider presses of western Pennsylvania. He planted his seeds on the fertile spots, on the banks of the Licking creek. In 1800 he was seen by a settler drifting down the Ohio river in two canoes, lashed together, and loaded with apple seeds, destined for the western border of the white settlement. He often planted as high as a bushel of seed in one locality then inclosed the spot with a slight fence, or guard of bushes, when he would leave the place till the trees had in a measure grown. Planting one stock of seeds, he returned to Pennsylvania for another, which he gathered from the cider presses in different places.

In this way the wilderness was made to blossom like a rose, and the foundation was laid for the immense growth

KAUFF IS PENITENT; ASKS REINSTATEMENT

New York, May 6.—In a penitent letter written today to President Gilmore, of the Federal league, by Bennie Kauff, the Brooklyn club's outfielder, who caused such a sensation last week when he signed a contract with the New York Nationals, the player asks re-instatement. He says in part:

"I am anxious to play base ball again with the Brookfeds and feel sorry that I followed the advice of older men in the game and took part in the recent trouble." Kauff, who is practicing with the other Brooklyn players every day, accepted his pay check from the Brooklyn management yesterday and it is generally understood that he will be re-instated in time to play against the Kansas City team here next Saturday.

MISSIVE CARRIES NEW DEATH THREAT

Letter-Writing Slayer of New York Children at Work Again.

New York, May 6.—The letter writing murderer who killed five-year-old Elenore Cohn and four-year-old Charlie Murray has written to the Murray boy's mother telling her that he will commit another murder when the present excitement over the child's death subsides.

The letter was received today at the time the little victim's body was about to be buried. Mrs. Murray read one paragraph and collapsed. The missive was taken to police headquarters to be examined for finger prints.

The murder of the little boy, who was killed by knife wounds in his abdomen, the night of May 3, was preceded by a similar threat that contained a letter addressed to Mrs. Cohn, the mother of the little girl who was killed March 29. Both children, the police believe, were killed by the same person.

The letter to Mrs. Murray was mailed in this city at 7:30 o'clock last night and was delivered today while preparations were being made for funeral services for the boy. In the belief that the slayer will be in the neighborhood at the time of the funeral, scores of detectives mingled with the crowds outside the Murray home. The streets became so crowded that police had to preserve order.

One suspect, a man seen muttering to himself, was arrested but later released after telling a story that convinced the police he knew nothing of the crime. Eastside mothers, thoroughly alarmed, escorted their children to and from school in the neighborhood today.

SNOW WITH GENTLE SPRING IN KANSAS

Killing Frosts Are Also Reported Over Large Area in the West.

Kansas City, Mo., May 6.—Snow fell in northwestern Kansas, a section of the panhandle of Texas and at Denver, Col., during the last 24 hours, according to reports to the local weather bureau today. Killing frosts prevailed last night over Nebraska, the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming, while Oklahoma, Texas, Iowa, Missouri and a large portion of Kansas experienced cold rains.

Goodland, Kas., got an inch of snow while flurries fell in the northwestern part of the state. Dalhart, Texas, reported a white blanket covered that section of the panhandle this morning. Fears are felt for fruit trees there. Predictions for a repetition tonight of frost in Nebraska, with north central and western Kansas added to the threatened district, were made by the bureau.

CHARGES FLY AT HEARING

Labor Leaders Accused at Inquiry Into Pennsylvania Company.

PIERCE SAYS LEE DID NOT DELIVER

Had Promised B. R. T. Support to Shopmen, Declares Strike Chief.

Washington, May 6.—Charges that W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, promised the support of his organization to a strike of Pennsylvania railroad shopmen in 1914 and failed to deliver it and counter charges that W. H. Pierce, organizer of the shopmen's strike, began his activities after the Pennsylvania had refused him a position as legislative agent, featured today's hearing before the industrial commission. Mr. Lee will have an opportunity to testify, if he desires.

General Manager Long made several detailed statements of labor troubles on the road and H. B. Hunt explained the operation of the railroad's relief system. The Pennsylvania state constabulary was discussed.

Pierce Resumes Testimony.

W. Pierce resumed his testimony concerning the Pennsylvania shopmen's strikes at Altoona and Harrisburg last year. He asserted that conditions among the shop men never would be what they should be until the railroad company extended the men the right of organization, the same as to employees of the transportation service.

S. C. Long, general manager of the Pennsylvania, was ready to take the stand following the completion of Mr. Pierce's testimony.

Pierce questioned by Commissioner Weinstock, insisted that the Pennsylvania discharged, in wholesale lots, men who joined the shopmen's union.

"I do not say the Pennsylvania railroad objects to five or ten per cent of their men being organized but when the organization shows strength the company sets its machine in motion to wipe them out of existence."

Pierce Attacks Lee.

SUFFRAGISTS WILL CONFER IN CHICAGO

New York, May 6.—The national board of the National Woman's Suffrage association issued today a call for a conference of suffrage leaders to be held in Chicago June 6-9 for the purpose of discussing the sixty-fourth congress.

The call was signed by the Rev. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Mrs. Medill McCormick, Mrs. Susan Fitzgerald, of Boston, and other suffrage leaders. To the conference are invited the executive council of the national organization, presidents of state organizations and the congressional chairman. The conference, the call states, is imperative because of problems which have arisen since the convention last winter.

NEGRO MAID TOSSES IN A NEW SENSATION

Says She Was Offered $300 to Change Testimony in Carman Case.

Mineola, N. Y., May 6.—Celia Coleman, the negro maid who is the chief witness for the state in the trial of Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise D. Bailey, caused a sensation on re-direct examination today by testifying that a negro detective named George Hicks had endeavored to induce her to change her story of the murder and told her that if she would do so Mrs. Carman would pay her $300.

"Hicks came to Charleston, S. C., where I was spending the winter," said the witness, "and told me Mrs. Carman would give me $300 if I would change my story."

Mrs. Carman's attorney objected to the admission of the testimony but was overruled upon his admission that Hicks was connected with the defense. Mrs. Carman evidenced considerable agitation during her former maid's testimony. George Toomer, Celia's cousin and a man named Flood were present when Hicks made the alleged offer, the witness further testified. Toomer, who was the last witness before recess corroborated that portion of the maid's testimony in which she said she had told him a few nights after the shooting what Mrs. Carman had said to her the night of the shooting and the morning afterwards. Toomer had written down the story she related as it was told. The memorandum was produced.

The negress again declared yesterday that Mrs. Carman said to her after the shooting at the Carman home: "I shot him," and later, "What did I kill that woman for? I hope God will forgive me."

The state hoped to finish its case today.

At the afternoon session Toomer corroborated the Coleman woman's statement that a detective had tried to induce her to change her testimony while she was in South Carolina. With Toomer as its last witness the state rested.

HINSHAW BACK IN WINCHESTER

Winchester, Ind., May 6.—William C. Hinshaw, who was paroled by Governor Ralston in order that he could attend the funeral of his friend, Union B. Hunt, has arrived in Winchester and is visiting relatives. Hinshaw went to prison in 1895 under sentence of life for the murder of his wife. It is understood that the parole is temporary and that Hinshaw will return to Michigan City Sunday.

The Hunt funeral was held this afternoon. The city was draped in mourning for the former secretary of state and during the funeral services the business places were closed.

TRUSTEE OF WINONA FILES FIRST REPORT

Lloyd D. Claycombe, trustee for the Winona Assembly and Summer School association, has filed his first report with Judge Sol A. Wood, referee in bankruptcy.

In the report the trustee asks for authority to lease certain farm land and to sell a $500 acre tract on which there is a residence property belonging to the association. He also asks for power to lease several cottages and to let the contract for floral decorations for the coming season.

Referee Wood has approved the final report of Finley C. Mount, receiver, with the exception of the application for an allowance, which has been continued.

On May 14 the final distribution will be made of the estate of Charles H. G. Jones, a merchant and cigar manufacturer at Auburn. The estate will pay approximately forty per cent on the dollar. The referee has approved the sale of the real estate belonging to James McKibben, a farmer and stock buyer living at Milford, Ind., and has ordered a distribution of the funds.

PEKING HAS ULTIMATUM

Japan's Final Word Ready to Be Given to Chinese Government.

DRAWING NEARER DECISIVE MOVE

Tension Between Eastern Nations Becomes Still More Acute.

Peking, China, May 6.—The ultimatum of Japan to China reached the Japanese legation today. It probably was presented to the Chinese government this afternoon.

PREPARE FOR SIEGE.

Hankow, May 6.—The Japanese barracks here have been prepared for a siege. Following the consul's advice many Japanese have left the city. The Chinese appear wholly indifferent. Several prominent native residents were entertained at dinner last night by some of the leading Japanese citizens.

JAPS FLEE MUKDEN.

Mukden, Via Peking, May 6.—The Japanese consular orders issued May 3 resulted in a general flight of Japanese from Mukden the following day. The value of a gold yen increased thirty silver cents and a rich harvest was reaped by exchange brokers. All Japanese civilians except a few bankers and railway officials now have left the city.

All classes of Chinese viewed the exodus with stolid indifference, not insulting or molesting in any way the persons leaving the city. Although the natives are deeply perturbed, the city remains absolutely quiet. Japanese troops occupy strategic positions in Mukden, while Chinese soldiers are reported to be moving into position to the south of the city. Many of the residents in that district are coming north.

BRYAN WILL NOT PREDICT.

Washington, May 6.—Official dispatches from both Tokio and Peking received here today indicated that while an ultimatum to China by Japan was considered possible, the step actually

FLIGHTING AT CRACOW MOST CRUEL OF WAR

Geneva May 6.—(Via Paris, 1:50 p. m.)—The Tribune de Geneva has received a dispatch from Vienna, saying that the desperate effort of an Austro-German army of 250,000 men to break through the Russian center at Gorlice has failed. The losses have been heavy, and the Austro-German army were compelled to retreat to the west to Neu Sandomo. German troops continue to arrive at Cracow, and the fighting near there is said to be the most cruel of the war.

Muncie, former trustees of Harrison and Jackson townships, Clay county, respectively, entered pleas of guilty to entering false claims against the townships and bribery when called for trial here this morning.

Ray, Shipp, Hendricks, Hawkins and Collins were each fined $10 and costs and sentenced to from two to fourteen years in the state's prison, and Muncie was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to from one to five years in the penitentiary. All were disfranchised for the time of their minimum sentence.

The prison sentences were suspended, however, when it was announced that the defendants had settled with the state board of accounts in the sum of $13,485.66, of which sum $8,051.07 was for Jackson township, $5,064.18 for Harrison and $369.71 for Lewis township. It was stated that Governor Ralston also had approved the settlement by which the townships, which suffered financially will be reimbursed. A similar charge is pending against Ray in Vigo county.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT NOT CROSS-EXAMINED

Barnes' Suit Against Former President for Libel Nears Close.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 6.—The suit of William Barnes for libel against Theodore Roosevelt is nearly completed, his attorneys announced today. Only a few more witnesses remained to be recalled. Just how long Col. Roosevelt will stay on the witness stand today depends on how long Justice William S. Andrews would permit him to go into local conditions at Albany.

When court opened today Mr. Ivins and Mr. Bowers began their argument upon the admissibility of evidence concerning local affairs in Albany. Mr. Bowers, for Col. Roosevelt, urged that the Colonel be allowed to answer the questions put to him yesterday as to information he possessed about an arrangement between Mr. Barnes "and a man named McCabe, at one time leader of the democratic party in Albany." Mr. Bowers argued that the evidence should be admitted in mitigation of damages.

He said: "I expect Col. Roosevelt will testify here that Mr. Barnes bargained with one McCabe. I expect the defendant will testify that Mr. Barnes found places in gambling houses for men to work."

Justice Andrews ruled against this line of questioning saying that any information the defendant had received which was confined to the county and city affairs in Albany, was immaterial.

Col. Roosevelt then resumed the stand.

"I don't care to have anything further to say to Col. Roosevelt," remarked Mr. Ivins with a smile. So, contrary to expectations, the colonel was not cross examined upon his testimony of yesterday.

JAPAN EMBARRASSED BY THE PUBLICITY

Didn't Want Details of Her Negotiations With China Out So Early.

Tokio, Thursday, April 22.—(By Mail to Shanghai, May 6.)—The world-wide publication of the list of demands presented to China by Japan shortly after the defeat of the German garrison at Kiao Chow and which still are being negotiated between the two governments coupled with the reports of growing opposition to them in England and the attitude on this whole subject of the United States, has greatly embarrassed the Japanese government from which the people expect much.

Various political associations in Japan are clamoring for drastic measures against China. Everybody is discussing the possibility of war, and speculating upon the nature and the extent of the military campaign Japan would have to undertake should China refuse to cede. All parties and factions in the country are united in favor of Japan establishing a predominating influence in China, which country is regarded as the natural field for the needed Japanese expansion.

The semi-official press is urging the government to stand firm in spite of criticisms of foreign countries and is giving expression to the belief that the failure of the present negotiations would excite the profound disappointment and indignation of the Japanese people.

The statements given out today that Japan proposed to communicate to China the irreducible minimum of her demands, to be followed later by an ultimatum should China continue to prove intractable, have met with popular approval. Japanese officials are denying that there is any purpose of sending any ultimatum but they are permitting it to be understood among the Japanese that the situation has reached a crisis. A dispatch has been received here from Sazbo, the naval base, saying that if the negotiations with China were broken off, the second and third Japanese fleets would sail for the north of China. The Japanese government has replied verbally to all the points in the American note on the subject of the Chinese situation. It is seeking to assure America that it has no intention of violating the Root agreement concerning the open door in China or of prejudicing the rights of Americans in China.

SEES MISSING HAT; SOLVES BURGLARIES

Indianapolis, Ind., May 6.—When Norman A. Slusher, 2930 West Michigan street, saw his hat on another man's head while riding down town on a West Michigan street car, at noon yesterday, he decided to follow the man and hat until he met a policeman, in the hope of catching the thief who entered his home April 26. The man with the hat alighted at Illinois and Maryland streets and Emmet Englebright, a traffic policeman, arrested him when Slusher pointed him out.

Carl Irwin, 19 years old, giving Franklin, Ind., as his home, was the man who was arrested, and he is said to have confessed yesterday afternoon to Detectives Roche and Coleman that he has robbed six dwellings and a school house since April 23. He named Scott Dillman, 19 years old, as an accomplice in several burglaries, the detectives say. Dillman was arrested on April 27 by Sergt. Hett and squad, and is held charged with loitering. Both men are white.

Former Senator Young Arrested; Then Freed

Vienna, May 6.—Via London, 12:53 p. m.—Former United States Senator Lafayette Young, of Des Moines, Iowa, accompanied by a former American deputy consul at Berne, Switzerland, was arrested at Inisbruck, Austria, yesterday on a suspicion of espionage directed against Mr. Young's companion. Mr. Young was promptly released, with apologies, after a few hours' detention in his hotel, but his companion was held in custody in the hotel until today before he was able to satisfy the suspicious of the authorities, who apparently had been warned to look for a man of the same name.

Mr. Young arrived in Vienna this morning. Speaking of the incident he said he saw no reason for complaint. He left later in the day for Berlin.

THERE AS WAR CORRESPONDENT.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 6.—Former Senator Lafayette Young left here for his European tour January 26, first visiting London, where he spent a month. He was in Belgium for ten days and since has been in Paris and on the French battlefields. He was in the French trenches in the northern part of France on April 15, 16 and 17. Mr. Young is in Europe in the capacity of war correspondent of his own newspaper, the Des Moines Capital.

MOTHER KILLS ONE SON; NERVE FAILS

Milwaukee Woman Admits Intention to Slay Both, Then Herself.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 6.—Mrs. Susie Wodjik, wife of a sailor who lives alone in the basement of a shack in a desolate part of Milwaukee while her husband is away during the navigation season, last night admitted, the police assert, that she choked to death her 6-year-old son, Adam, several days ago.

The woman collapsed after detailing the story. She said, according to the police, that she had planned to strangle her other young son also and to take her own life, but that her nerve failed after she had left the body of one child in an alley. So, she said, she decided to place a rag in the boy's mouth and report to the police that he was missing.

Mrs. Wodjik professed ignorance of how he met death, but finally broke down and told the story, the police said. She said that she had tired of her miserable existence and wanted to take her children with her to the grave.

APPROPRIATIONS GO ABOVE $4,000,000

Chicago, May 6.—Appropriations totalling $4,500,000, have been made by the general conference commission of the Methodist Episcopal church to carry on the work of the church throughout the world today. The commission of which Col. Elijah W. Halford, of New York, is treasurer, is holding a two day session here. The amounts apportioned to the individual societies are: Board of foreign missions, $1,800,00; board of home missions, $1,560,000. Freedman's Aid society, $270,000; board of Sunday schools, $230,000; board of education, $510,000. American Bible society, $100,000; church Temperance society, $50,000.

"Notwithstanding the spteial emergencies occasioned by the war," Colonel Halford said, "the board of foreign missions was one of the few church bodies of any of the denominations which ended the year without debt."

Japanese Employes of University Farm Are Discharged.

Fresno, Cal., May 6.—Six Japanese employes of the State university farm at Kearney, near here, were discharged recently, and only white labor is to be used hereafter on the farm, according to a statement made by its superintendent, Ralph Frizelle. Frizelle said he acted on orders from the board of regents of the university.

The Fresno labor council has made several complaints recently concerning the employment of Japanese at the farm.

Italy Continues to Make Ready, Despite Her Negotiations.

On the Italian frontier Wednesday, May 5.—Via Paris, May 6.—12:40 p. m.—At the same time that the negotiations between Italy and Austria are being continued, Italy's military preparations are being completed with as much energy as though the country expected to participate in war tomorrow. All the Carabiniers and the customs guards, who in Italy are attached to the army, have been called to the colors and all military leaves of absence have been suppressed. The frontier of Italy on the Austrian side has been strongly fortified. All the passes are protected with entrenchments and wire entanglements. Concrete has been laid in a number of places in the erection of barricades for the protection of the soldiers.

Special measures have been adopted for the defense of Venice and the art treasures in this city. The naval authorities are of the opinion that long range guns of large calibre are sufficient to prevent any hostile fleet from bombarding the city, but attack from aeroplanes is feared. To afford protection against the onslaughts of aviators, anti-airship guns around the city and it several points around the city and it is believed they will suffice to protect Venice from assault from above.

In addition to the troops concentrated on the Austrian frontier another Italian army has been brought together in the vicinity of Brindisi, on the Adriatic. This concentration is interpreted as a sign that Italy foresees the possibility of action in the near east.

1915 CLASS OF HOPE HOSPITAL GRADUATES

Dr. Miles F. Porter Gives Interesting Address at Exercises.

The eleven members of the graduation class of 1915 of the Hope hospital received their diplomas Wednesday evening at the close of the commencement exercises which were held in the auditorium of the high school building. A large audience of friends and relatives of the nurses were present at the event which marked the close of the consummation of the four year course.

The large stage had been beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers and the eleven young ladies marched to their places to music of the Minuet orchestra. The graduates all wore nurses' uniforms. Rev. M. L. Buckley of the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, delivered the invocation. A solo by Miss Ethel Doud was well received by the audience.

Dr. Miles F. Porter, who delivered the address of the evening, chose for his subject, "Humanity's Debt." In the course of his talk he said that man's inhumanity to man had never been more conspicuous than during the present great European struggle for supremacy. He paid a tribute to the Red Cross nurses and American physicians who are on the battlegrounds giving their help to the wounded soldiers.

In addressing the class, which is one of the largest ever graduated from the institution, he said, "All your work is worth doing well. The ability to do great things is measured by humility in doing the little things of life first for in this way you prepare for the supreme test. The close of your career of preparation is like the close of a beautiful day with the abiding faith that there is another one to come."

Clinton R. Wilson administered the obligations to the graduates. The solemn Florence Nightingale vow of faithfulness and service being assumed by all with uplifted hands. Mrs. M. S. Young presented the badges and pins.

The Hope Hospital Alumae association gave a dance at the Minuet for the graduates at the close of the exercises. The members of the graduation class are Miss Edith Neidig, Bourbon; Miss Mabel Pitman, Van Wert, Ohio; Miss Laura, Kreigh, Ossian, Ind.; Miss Mary Leiter, Warsaw; Miss Frieda Fisher, Kendallville; Miss Marguret Mash, Bluffton; Miss Ruth Musterson, Bluffton; Miss Lillian Jenkins, London, Ontario; Miss Neola Moyer, Decatur, and Miss Lula Wolfron, Ada, Ohio.

PEACE IN OHIO COAL FIELD SEEMS CERTAIN

Cleveland, Ohio, May 6.—Peace in the Ohio coal field for the coming year at least seemed sure today following the passage yesterday by the legislature at Columbus of the Gallagher bill and progress made by the joint scale conference of miners and operators in session here.

The Gallagher bill makes optional rather than compulsory the provisions of the Green law, specifying the run of mine basis for paying miners. The operators had agreed that if this bill passed and the miners made concessions on working conditions they would sign the 47 cent run of mine scale for a year, and they propose to stand by their agreement. The desired concessions have practically all been made by the miners' delegates at the meeting here, and unless Governor Willis vetoes the Gallagher bill, which is improbable, an agreement will likely be signed before the end of the week.

MINISTERS WITNESS GREAT PRODUCTION

Several ministers accepted the invitation extended by the management of the Minuet theater and witnessed as guests of the theater the wonderful production, "The Life of Our Savior," in seven reels, Thursday morning. Those who saw the production were enthusiastic in their praise of it.

Very vividly and realistically, but none the less tenderly and reverently, the pictures portray the principal events in the life of Christ.

The subject is handled in the most authentic and reverent manner and the beautiful story holds the spectator enthralled while teaching a lesson every man, woman or child should know. The conclusion leaves the spectator feeling better toward all mankind, realizing afresh the meaning of the brotherhood of man too often forgotten in life's materialistic struggle.

CHICAGO ORGANIZES WAR HOSPITAL UNIT

Chicago, May 6.—A hospital unit of thirty-two doctors and seventy-four nurses is being organized in Chicago for service with the British army, according to announcement today by Dr. John B. Murphy, who was directed by the British war department to complete the organization. All members of the unit will be Chicagoans. Dr. James M. Neff, a former associate of Dr. Murphy, will be the active head of the unit when it leaves America. He is to have the rank of a lieutenant colonel of the British army. The nurses will be selected from those having the greatest surgical experience. The unit expects to sail within six weeks.

CORNELL ASKS CLEMENCY.

Alumni Makes Plea to Governor for Leo Frank.

Atlanta, Ga., May 6.—Governor Slaton had before him today a bound volume containing hundreds of signed circulars from the Cornell Alumni association of western Pennsylvania asking executive clemency for Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta factory girl. Personal notes to the governor were attached to many of the circulars by Cornell alumni who knew Frank, who is a graduate of Cornell in his student days.

INVADING ARMIES IN A PERILOUS PLIGHT

London, May 6.—Reports of consistent progress on the part of the allied forces at the Dardanelles were contradicted in an official statement today from the Turkish war office. It was said the troops which landed on Gallipoli peninsula were in a precarious position, being encircled by Turkish forces and unable to advance. The statement was made that only two points on the peninsula—Seddul-Bahr and Avi Burnu, were held by the allies.

Dispatches from French and British sources said further successes had been won by the allies. An attack by Turks on the encampment at Krithia resulted disastrously for them, according to these advices, the Turks having left 1,500 dead behind them after their repulse. A British correspondent asserted that the tip of the peninsula and the entire western side were under control of the allies.

Rome, Vienna and Berlin advices indicated that a crisis had come in the negotiations between Italy and Austria. In Rome where it had been felt of late that war was inevitable, there has been a sudden revival of hope of a peaceful settlement owing to the fact that Austria is said to have realized the necessity of making substantial territorial concessions. Vienna regarded as significant a visit of the Italian ambassador to the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, although the outcome was not disclosed. Berlin newspapers said Italy's participation in the war must be regarded as not unlikely.

Claims were made in Petrograd that the victory of the Russian army of the Caucasus over the Turks announced yesterday, was an important and decisive one. A force of 30,000 Turks which attacked the Russians in the Dilman-Khori region, was said to have been repulsed with heavy losses and compelled to retire in disorder.

Still another neutral steamer has been sunk in the North sea whether by mine or torpedo has not been established. The Danish vessel, Cathay, from Denmark to China, was blown up, but her passengers and crew, numbering 43, escaped.

THINKS HE WOULD LIKE HIGH SCHOOL

Cleveland Lad Anxious to Get Back Home to Complete Education.

Nick Anthony was the moniker given the police by a 17-year-old lad who told the city court he would like nothing so well as to get back to his home in Cleveland, browse on the home cooking and get back again to his place in the high school he attended, even if he had to give up his cherished plans for setting a new pace in fortune-making out west. Nick and a companion were overhauled early Thursday morning at Main street and Broadway by Officer Felber. The other lad escaped, but Nick was locked up. A revolver scabbard and some cartridges were found in his pockets and it is supposed the other lad has the gun. Young Anthony denied that he was a burglar or the short end of a stick-up sketch team. Judge Kerr ordered him held until inquiry can be made.

Other City Court Cases.

William Breuer, brew-master at the Berghoff Brewing association's plant, took an appeal from the city court after he had been fined $10 and costs for driving an automobile without 1915 license tags. He explained that he had two older cars, but recently bought a Ford for his own use, had applied for license for it—a fact he proved—and had transferred the tags from a larger car to the new one while waiting for cards from Indianapolis. The tags had been transferred back to the big car without his knowledge and he drove out with his Ford and was sent in.

Dick Brennan was fined $100 and costs and given thirty days at the state penal farm by Judge Kerr Thursday morning, all of which will keep him at the institution 140 days. He had pleaded guilty to drunk charges with several previous convictions.

William Doudhager, another chronic drunk known to fame as "Whisky Bill," was turned loose with the warning that his next appearance in the city court would get him a trip to the state farm.

John May, a loiterer, was continued until May 20 to give the police time to look him up.

John Parrish, a drunk, said he had recovered sufficiently from his debauch to play safe and was released.

Clara Smith and Eva Swope, two married women who were continued for a day on loitering charges, were continued further until June 5 and released on their own recognizance.

MAJOR QUITS TRAFFIC SQUAD.

Officer Reginald Major, who has been one of the traffic squad for a year or two, has been transferred to night patrol duty at his own request and will be succeeded on the traffic detail by Patrolman John Keintz. Officer Major says traffic duty has not agreed with his health and that he has suffered from headache a great deal since the adoption of the whistle system for signalling traffic.

A London resident prepared for an attack from aircraft by filling in his roof, which is flat, with sand, with the result that the roof sagged and the ceilings fell in.

HE WARNS ENGLAND GERMANY MAY WIN

Poet Watson Declares His Kingdom is in Very Grave Peril.

London, May 6.—William Watson, the poet, has contributed a prose article to the Evening News, in which he denounces the apathy of the British government and people in the following terms:

"It is high time that the masses of the people of this country had it driven and hammered into their somewhat slow minds, for no gentler mode of introducing it will suffice, that it is very doubtful, indeed, whether we are going to beat the Germans at all."

Criticizing the "lulling assurances that all will ultimately be well," Mr. Watson praises the spirit of the Germans and declares "our allies and we ourselves are in imminent and grievous peril."

Continuing, Mr. Watson makes the statement that Germany is "supremely formidable with the spirit that makes her an unprecedented menace and terror to us and to the world," and he declares that "we are acting, so far as our land forces are concerned, if not a subordinate, at any rate a secondary, part in this gigantic drama of the nations, and it will be the fault of our own apathy, sluggishness and fatal optimism if the drama darkens at the last into a tragedy both for us and the truest interests of mankind."

What is asserted to be the finest stone mason work in the world is to be seen in the ruins of Inca palaces in the city of Cuzco, Peru.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MAY BE FATALLY HURT.

Frank Haynes, Young Farmer Near Ruth, Crushed Under Harrow.

Bluffton, Ind., May 6.—Frank Haynes, a young married farmer, who lives near Ruth, was run over by a disc harrow Wednesday, and will probably die from his injuries. He was thrown from his seat when the horses started to run and one of the sharp discs passed over the right side of his head, cutting a gash six inches long through the skull just over the ear. he bone was crushed and broken and the substance of the brain was oozing from the wound when he was picked up. Despite his terrible hurt, he retained consciousness until he was placed under an anaesthetic by Drs. A. W. Brown, G. B. Morris, of Petroleum, and Caylor, of Pennville. If the injury in itself is not fatal there is great danger from infection as the disc was covered with dirt. Mr. Haynes was driving into the barnyard with the machine when a passing automobile frightened the horses so that they whirled and bolted, unseating him immediately. Besides the cut on his head his body was badly bruised, but was not cut, his head only passing under the knives.

AFFRAY AT DECATUR.

Decatur, Ind., May 6.—Because of his refusal to pay his board bill, Tony Pareso, an Italian, employed on the Erie construction gang, was the victim of a vicious assault in the vicinity of the camp cars near the Eleventh street crossing, by Joe Miller, proprietor of the boarding car. When Pareso refused to pay, Miller picked up a foot adz and made a pass at Pareso, striking him with the sharp edge and cutting a gash in the forehead, through the eyebrow, just missing the corner of the right eye, and glancing off toward the right ear. The right cheek bone was also cut through. The blow knocked Pareso down and Miller then picked up an axe handle and struck him twice on the left side, one of the blows snapping a bone in the left forearm.

WILL PROSECUTE ARMSTRONG.

Portland, Ind., May 6.—An officer went from here today to Indianapolis to bring back John Harold Armstrong, self-confessed white slaver, who made Miss Jennie Velora Thompson, a pretty young stenographer of this city, his last victim. Armstrong was held at Indianapolis awaiting action by the grand jury under the Mann white slave act, but he had not violated that law in this state and was released from federal custody. He was held, however, on other charges to be brought here—wife desertion and probably issuing fraudulent checks. Armstrong married the Thompson girl here after a brief acquaintance and took her to Indianapolis. He said it was his intention to sell her into a life of shame, but that when she knelt in their room and offered a simple reverent prayer he had not the heart to further violate such innocence. He went out and confessed to a Salvation Army officer, then escaped, but was later recaptured in Evansville.

PLAN JUVENILE MARKET.

Huntington, Ind., May 6.—In order to encourage the children of Huntington to cut the high cost of living by learning to raise vegetables in back yards and to cultivate every available space of ground that can be obtained, the Women's Civic Improvement league in conjunction with the Parent-Teachers' association will foster a juvenile market where the children can dispose of their produce. This action was taken at a meeting of the Women's Civic Improvement league in the Commercial club rooms. The idea, while unique, comes as a sequence to the flower and vegetable contest to be participated in by the children this summer under the auspices of the league.

SWALLOWS ACID; RECOVERS.

Huntington, Ind., May 6.—Fred Fitzgerald, a restaurant man of this city, aged 22, swallowed a quantity of carbolic acid in an attempt to end his life, but was saved by a physician. His wife pleaded with him for five minutes to dissuade him from swallowing the poison and then ran out of their home to get help. When she returned with a neighbor Fitzgerald was writhing in agony on the bed. He had told his wife he wanted to die because she no longer loved him. The couple have been married only since last December and have been getting along well together. Business troubles are believed to have caused Fitzgerald to become demented.

DROVE INTO LAKE WAWASEE.

Warsaw, Ind., May 6.—Harrison Lemmons, a teamster, who resides in the northwest part of the county, narrowly escaped death or serious injury, when a load of logs on which he was riding went over a high embankment and fell into Lake Wawasee, when he fell asleep. The team went to turn out of the road and the heavily loaded wagon slipped down a high embankment and rolled into the lake. When the wagon left the road the driver awoke and managed to jump to safety. After working for five hours the loaded wagon was removed from the lake by five teams of horses.

TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT.

Columbia City, Ind., May 6.—James W. Johnson is serving a sentence of five days in jail for contempt of court and will have five additoinal days to serve if he does not pay the costs incurred in his case. He and Will Casner were witnesses for the state in the circuit court this week and appeared Monday, but were not used. Tuesday they did not show up and they had the court tied up for several hours, while the sheriff was trying to get them. At last they were brought in. Judge Wrigley gave Johnson a penalty and Sent Casner home.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR DIES.

Huntington, Ind., May 6.—Martin B. Merriman, aged 70, was buried in Clear Creek cemetery today after services in the Baptist church. He died at the home of his son Curtis in Huntington. Mr. Merriman was born in Whitley county, December 31, 1845. He was married to Rebecca Sutton. There were four children. The wife and one child are dead. Mr. Merriman lived in Whitley county for many years. Three weeks ago he came to visit his son Curtis and was taken sick shortly after he came to his son's home. He was a private soldier in Company I of the 152d regiment of the Indiana infantry.

MISSING MAN HEARD FROM.

Decatur, Ind., May 6.—Frank Deweese, the Decatur resident who mysteriously disappeared from his home in the city Sunday afternoon, has been heard from at Detroit, Mich., and it is expected that he will arrive home some time this evening or tonight. The first information as to his location was received at Lima, O., by his father, and by him the news was sent to the family here. It is thought that he left his home under a temporary mental derangement and that after reaching Detroit realized what he had done and at once notified the father that he might allay all fear as to his safety.

DEATH RECALLS OLD TRAGEDY.

Portland, Ind., May 6.—Samuel J. Bone, 60, died at the county infirmary from heart disease. His death recalls a tragedy in this city about twenty-four years ago when acting as a special police officer, the deceased shot and killed Frank Giles, who had resisted arrest. A brother of Giles swore revenge on Bone and a few years later, after Bone had been acquitted of a murder charge, met Bone on the streets here and a pistol duel ensued, but the shots fired went wild of their mark. The irate brother was blown to atoms in a nitroglycerine explosion in Ohio.

BEATS UP MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Lagrange, Ind., May 6.—At Mongo, this county, Robert Wilson put his favorite dog in the best bed the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Fannie W. Colwell, affords. THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Proverb 22:17-29.

17 Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee; they shall withal be fitted in thy lips.

19 That thy trust may be in the Lord, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee.

20 Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge.

21 That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth; that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee?

22 Rob not the poor, because he is poor; neither oppress the afflicted in the gate:

23 For the Lord will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoiled them.

24 Make no friendship with an angry man; and with a furious man thou shalt not go:

25 Lest thou learn his ways, and get a snare to thy soul.

26 Be not thou one of them that strike hands, or of them that are sureties for debts.

27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why should he take away thy bed from under thee?

28 Remove not the ancient landmark, which thy fathers have set.

29 Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men.

The Gulflight Case

It is gratifying to note the calmness and sanity manifested by the American people following the publication of reports that the American steamer Gulflight had been attacked by a submarine, and as details begin to come through from official channels the wisdom of such a course becomes increasingly apparent. It is apparent from evidence thus far at hand that the oil tanker was flying the American flag at the time she was singled out for torpedoing, and while the early reports credited a German submarine with having made the attack, later reports declare that that fact has by no means been established. The identity and the nationality of the subsea warship is yet to be determined. It may yet be substantiated as the work of a German warship, and it may also fall out that it was a submarine of another nation that made the error that wrecked the ship and cost the lives of two Americans.

In any event, the true facts must be ascertained before intelligent action can be taken. The official inquiry, now in progress at several points, will supply this information, untinged by bias and unmagnified by the partisanism that must inevitably characterize so many of the war statements issued by the belligerents. It is inconceivable that any of the nations at war should deliberately attack an American vessel. It is the firm belief at Washington that when it shall be established definitely from what source the attack came there will be a prompt expression of regret and whatever financial reparation is possible for an occurrence of this kind. Nobody in authority is prepared to believe that there will be any other than an amicable adjustment of the whole matter at as early a date as is consistent with intelligent procedure. The exigencies of war bring many unlooked-for and unintentional complexities. Clearly the Gulflight case is one of them, and proper and ample adjustment will be desired none the less by the nation at fault than by the United States itself.

Speaking at what was announced as a democratic "love feast" at Plymouth, Representative John R. Jones, who achieved considerable prominence by his triumphant fight for a state-wide primary law at the recent session of the Indiana legislature, took occasion to utter a wholesome warning against machine politics, both in his own party and in other political organizations as well. Mr. Jones expressed the belief that there exists in Indiana a bi-partisan machine that attempts to control and capitalize, for revenue only, the politics of this great state. Doubtless Mr. Jones was moved to speak by his observations and experiences as a legislator, and yet it is extremely doubtful if conditions are any different from those which have obtained from time immemorial in Indiana as well as in other states. It is no shock to be told that the game of politics is none too clean at best. However, much is accomplished in the way of reform, it can always stand a bit more and be the better for it.

One is constrained to admire the confidence and the courage rather than the methods of the peace envoys named by the international woman's congress who purpose visiting rulers of all the principal nations of the world—those at war and those at peace—in the effort to launch a world movement for peace. And yet since mere man has made an utter failure thus far in bringing about that sort of an understanding there is no reason why woman should not try her hand, and no excuse for criticism of her effort in that direction, whatever course it may take.

Robert T. Lincoln, chairman of the board of directors of the Pullman company, testifying before the federal industrial relations board, admitted that the salaries of the porters on his company's cars is a mattery of worry to him. The aforesaid salaries are announced as $27.50 per month, and inasmuch as the company has paid to its stockholders a total of $223,000,000 in dividends, it would seem that Mr. Lincoln is unnecessarily distressed if his worry be over the possibility that the colored gentlemen are getting too large a share of the profits.

Because of the prominence of the principals, the lay reader has, of course, been tremendously interested in the hearing of the suit in which Mr. Barnes is seeking damages in the sum of $50,000 from Colonel Roosevelt for alleged libelous utterances. What the lay reader cannot comprehend, however, is what most of the clawing and hammering in the evidence as recounted in the newspaper reports has to do with the libel action, anyway.

The penalty of prominence was again illustrated when the driver of a white house automobile was haled into police court in Washington and fined $5 and costs for speeding. Ordinary chauffeurs all over the country are driving their machines at Pennsylvania limited speed every day and getting away with it. This thing of being in the limelight has its drawbacks, after all.

DR. MAYO AND THE HABERDASHERS.

(Toledo Blade.)

We learn through a Detroit contemporary that the haberdashers are much disturbed in mind by the phillipic of the eminent Dr. Mayo against the belt which a cycle of fashion has caused to supercede suspenders.

They fear, these merchants, that they will be left with highly costly stock on their shelves. At the very season when they feel most prepared against what trade may come, they will be compelled to lay in suspenders to meet the rush of an appendicitis-haunted public. Where hitherto they have praised the belt, pointed out its elegance and sworn to its efficiency, they will have to reverse English and condemn it as criminally unhealthful.

This is a compliment to Dr. Mayo, and we are sure he will appreciate it. Not every physician or surgeon can count upon impressing his patients, much less the world, with the finger of warning and the cautioning voice. But perhaps our Detroit contemporary somewhat exaggerates, or the Detroit haberdashers are of a peculiarly nervous temperament. It is to be suspected that the average merchant in that line will just go on persuading his customers to invest in belts, commending them not only for their engaging appearance, but also for a justly celebrated talent in guarding the male person against what, even in this age of transparencies and running trunks, must be embarrassing—the loss of one's trousers.

DRINK AND LOW WAGES.

(Kansas City Star.)

Some of the many connections between drink and low wages are illustrated by the reports from the British navy concerning the workers in the naval yards.

Although the British admiralty wants all the work done it can get done, it discourages work on the days when double wages are paid because the workmen who drink loaf other days while spending their double pay.

The incentive to pay men high wages is taken from the employers.

The moral argument of workmen for their right to a decent-living pay is destroyed when their own vice of drinking up all their money destroys their decent living whether they are paid well or not.

The physical ability of the men to force higher wages, both by earning them and by securing the payment of them through individual or collective bargaining is lessened or destroyed by alcohol.

No conscious device of enemies of workingmen could so hold them to underpay as the drink habit.

If He Has Been Left $125,000, He Has Not Been So Informed.

Kelker met Ellington while a fireman on the Grand Rapids and Indiana, eight years ago, at Grand Rapids, Michigan. It seems that Kelker frequently loaned Ellington small sums of money, never more than $4 or $5 at a time. Now the story is told that Ellington, having no relatives, left his entire estate valued at $125,000 to the Fort Wayne man.

BUSINESS MEN HEAR LYON AT NOON MEET

Noon Day Meetings One of the Big Features of Campaign.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 6.—One of the big features of the evangelistic campaign being waged in this city are the noon meetings that are being held in the factories, stores and offices.

At the noon luncheon held in the Central Christian church, Dr. Lyon spoke to a number of business men in part as follows:

"All of the intelligence and intellectuality possible won't make a person a Christian. There is one thing which blinds people more than anything else and prevents them from being Christians—that is sin. Sin blinds the eyes of people so they can't see the good and beautiful in Jesus Christ.

"I used to think the greatest thing was salvation, but now I am convinced it is service. What the world needs is more people to read the Bible. If we had more Bibles on two legs we'd be better off. We don't read the Bible enough."

Dr. Lyon referred in his talk to the way the Greeks, with all their intellectuality, stood aloof and said for Christ to come forward and they would see him. He said the only way people can get things is to go after them. He illustrated this point with a story about a missionary and a soldier who were in India about the same time. One said he had not seen a Christian during his stay in India, but had killed many lions. The other told an opposite story.

"Which all goes to show," said Dr. Lyon, "that we can find what we're seeking. In order to get Christianity we've got to seek it."

Tremendous crowds are in attendance at the tabernacle each evening and interest in the meetings is growing daily.

DUSKY LAUGHMAKER IS MELANCHOLY MAN

Bert Williams, Noted Comedian, Not at All Funny in Private Life.

(By Fred L. Boalt.)

Seattle, Wash., May 6.—I had seen Bert Williams, dusky comedian, a number of times, but always with the footlights between us.

I remembered him from the former "Follies" and vaudeville appearances,

BERT WILLIAMS.

not only as the funniest negro I had ever seen on the stage, but as one of the funniest men of any color.

I remembered that he rolled his eyes, and showed the whites of them; that he made grotesque grimaces; that his antics made me laugh. I remembered, particularly, a song he used to sing, in which he implored the woodman to spare that tree—because it was a slippery elm and the only tree his wife could not climb.

I know—or had heard—that he wrote many of his own songs, that he pulled down a fabulous salary, and that certain exclusive hotels about the country, which ordinarily drew the "color line," ignored it when Bert Williams came to town.

I had told myself that Williams was funny because he was a negro. He was, I said in my wisdom, funny because he was happy.

And I was wrong.

I was surprised when I saw him. I expected flamboyant tie and fancy waistcoat, a suit of noisy pattern and extravagant cut. I saw, instead, a tall, well-proportioned colored man, whose dress would not attract attention anywhere.

My second cause for surprise was that he did not patronize me or try to make me laugh. He did not grimace or roll his eyes.

We talked. I wanted to get a line on how a negro felt who is the leading man of a big theatrical organization, in which everybody else is white.

How does any negro feel who has developed faster than others of his race?

He told me of a friend of his back east, a man with only a drop of negro blood in his veins, but who is, nevertheless, in the eyes of society in America, a negro. This man is a lawyer and a writer. He is fairly well-to-do. He has education and refinement.

"He cannot enjoy the society of negroes," said Williams. "If he tried to obtrude himself into the society of white people, he would subject himself to the risk of insult. He is too proud to run such a risk. What is such a man to do?"

We talked of plays and players. The difficulty of being funny when you don't feel funny. Then we discussed books, funny and otherwise. And politics * * * and international politics * * * and the war.

The talk drifted to philosophy. What is to be the "ultimate end" of a world in which Germans and Austrians hate Frenchmen and Russians and in which white men despise black men because of a difference in color of the pigment under their skins?

He was well-read and his mental processes were orderly. He seemed to enjoy discussion. But through his conversation ran a somber note—a note of sadness.

On leaving him, I told him that, off the stage, he was the most melancholy comedian I had ever met. He smiled gloomily and departed for the theater to make folks laugh.

ENFORCES CLOSING ORDER.

Terre Haute Judge Sentences Saloon Keeper to Penal Farm.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 6.—The first saloon keeper to get a jail sentence for violating the closing order issued a few weeks ago by James Gossom, acting mayor of Terre Haute, was Ed Reiff, who was fined $25 and sentenced to sixty days in the state penal farm by Judge Newton. Reiff appealed the case.

William Doyle, who was fined $100 and sentenced to one day in jail by Judge Anderson for complicity in the Terre Haute election frauds, is wanted by the police on a charge of violating the Nicholson law. The police say liquor was sold Saturday night in Doyle's saloon. A renewal of his license was refused to Doyle after his conviction in the federal court, but he appealed. He is a brother of Sylvester Doyle, chief of police.

LURE OF CIRCUS REVEALS SECRET

Ill-Treated Waif from Spain, Silent Mystery, Could Not Resist Attraction.

New York, May 6.—A little brown-eyed, soft-spoken boy of mystery was picked up at the Pennsylvania station on April 7. Frail and none too rugged, his little hands were calloused with work. He seldom smiled and talked less. His olive skin indicated Spanish birth, and once, in an unguarded moment, he mentioned Spain and again Panama.

Taken in charge by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, all efforts to get him to tell his name or where he came from were unavailing. Lovable and pleasant at all other times he became defiant when that subject was broached and doggedly refused to answer.

Then the circus came and with it an inspiration to Superintendent Coultre. He would tempt the boy with the circus and pictures of its wonders were shown to him. On the day of the last performance he yielded. His curiosity overcame his reticence, and he promised to tell all if he could only go.

He was born in Spain and his name is Theodore Devilla. His parents took him to Panama, where his father worked on the canal. One day the father was killed and soon his mother married again.

His stepfather brought them to the United States. They lived at Utica for a time, and the father and boy went to West Virginia, where both worked in a coal mine, although the boy is not yet thirteen and looks ten. His stepfather beat him and he ran away. His mother is still in Utica. He is willing to go to her if she promises not to send him back to his stepfather and the mines.

Superintendent Coulter is communicating with the mother, and, if she consents, he will get a good home here for the boy.

BAILHE TRIO CONCERT.

No Better Program Has Been Given by Noted Organization.

One of the best programs ever given in this city by the Bailhe Trio, was the concert last night at the Majestic theater. Indeed it is to be questioned by only the keenest of critics whether the trio has ever done anything better than the finale to the Tschaikowsky Trio op. 50, which they rendered in a superb manner last night. It seemed as if Gaston Bailhe had never played with more authority and in numbers like the two Couperin works, a gavotte and a sarabande, where the violin part was predominant, Mr. Bailhe displayed a fire and vigor that was very impressive. In fact the trio played with more abandon to the moods of the music throughout the entire program than at any time this season, anyway. A group by Russian composers was wonderfully effective, running from the plaintive and exquisite melody of the Elegie and "A Tear" to the fire, passionate appeal and rhythm of the Tschaikowsky waltz from the opera 'Eugene Onegguine." The trio has certainly gained in bigness and poise with the addition of Emmeran Stoeber, cellist, who was heard in solo work in a group of three beautiful works, one by Bruch, one by Haydn and a rondo by Dvorak, which was a remarkably effective number temperamentally and technically. Mr. Stoeber gets a tone with plenty of body as well as beauty, and his playing deserved all the enthusiasm that expressed itself in much applause. George Bailhe gave splendid support at the piano for Mr. Stoeber, and throughout the program, apearing, however, in the finale already referred to as the gifted and cultured musician, as well as director of the trio, which he is. Certainly, chamber music is receiving an impetus through the work of the Bailhe Trio that speaks for the enjoyment of the most musical portion of the people of this city. The concert of yesterday would command attention and win plaudits in any metropolitan city of the country. A pleasing feature of the program was the singing of three songs by the Mozart Glee club of the Concordia college. The club is composed of young students who sing for the love of it, and who go about it with as much seriousness of purpose as they do their text books. The club was very well received.

Forehead Watch is Latest Fashion Fad

What's the sense of wearing a dainty, bejeweled watch on your forehead when you have to consult a mirror every time you want to know the hour?

The answer, perhaps, is that fashions haven't anything to do with sense anyway.

This odd conceit is the latest feminine fad to be adopted here. Earrings to match the watch are also de rigeur. The little time-piece is pendant on a head band binding the hair.

And when one finds one's attractive self without a mirror it is quite permissable to ask an admiring stranger if he would kindly read the story of the tiny gold hands for the thoughtless possessor of a forehead watch. Few strangers would refuse to perform this charitable service.

MERRY BILL AT NEW PALACE.

Wealth of Fun on the Week-End Program of Summer Vaudeville.

The week-end bill which opened this afternoon at the New Palace promises to be a rarely merry one, as in addition to the always amusing roller skating and wrestling bear, Alice Teddy, who will remain over the remainder of the week, the United Booking offices have sent a delegation of royal entertainers to Fort Wayne. Cole, Russell and Davis, a trio of fun makers extraordinary are appearing in the famous absurdity, "The Bogus Nobles," while Arthur Stone and Marian Hayes have a veritable carnival of fun in store for Fort Wayne in the skit called 'Green Goods." Benny and Woods, violin and piano artists, will prove a delight to local music lovers, and Dotson and Gordon have found an entirely new lode of fun in what they call "syncopated arguments." The E. F. Keith exclusive Jaunts and Journeys will complete the bill.

Praise for Fort Wayne Musicians.

Music News, a Chicago publication of weekly news in the music world of that city, contains in the same issue, that of April 30, notices of Fort Wayne young musical people that will command the attention of their friends. Miss Florence Lang, Miss Louise Linder and Howard Van Sweringen appeared in Thurber hall on April 30. Miss Linder received a notice of commendation but the praise extended the other two performers is given here in full. Says the Music News: "Mr. Van Sweringen, tenor, has made rapid strides in his art, and as a teacher and singer he has gained a fine place for himself. His voice is of good quality, and he uses it with much skill in the interpretation of songs His stage presence is attractive and his personality very ingratiating. He was heard in the opening group, comprising Mendelssohn's "Nachtlied," "Ungeduld" (Schubert) and Grieg's "Johannisnacht." He uses the rarest sort of intelligence in the presentation of songs, and his musicianship is of high order. The interpretations of the Grieg and Mendelssohn numbers were thoroughly artistic and effective. Miss Lang has a voice of good quality and range, over which she has good control, enabling her to express to a nicety the sentiments involved in a varied list of songs. She speaks the French text in a delightful manner, and her singing of numbers by Ferrari, Chaminade, Massenet and Gounod will be remembered as an artistic joy. Notably good were her renditions of "Le Mirior" and "The Serenade." Handel's "Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me," was sung in a favorable light."

Miss Thyra Ruhland was heard within a few weeks ago under auspices of Morning Musical society. The Music News praises are: "Miss Thyra Ruhland, a pupil of Miss Jetmette Durno, and Miss Klea Orschel, a pupil of Mrs. Charles Krum, were heard in a piano and song program at Thurber hall last Sunday afternoon, and there received the plaudits of a goodly audience of their friends, the commendation being well deserved in both cases. Miss Ruhland has splendid technic; in fact, her technic is much more developed at present than her interpretative ability and was displayed excellently in her program which was well chosen as to variety and effectiveness. All the numbers were played with taste and much display of musicianship, and if none rose to any great emotional heights, all were yet definite in conception and clear in execution. Bach and Mozart, in juxtaposition, were delightful, and the Chopin group disclosed many graces and charms, while the bravoura pieces at the close showed Miss Ruhland at her very best."

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Charles Frohman will offer his tri-star combination of musical comedy stars, Julia Sanderson, Donald Brian and Joseph Cawthorn, in "The Girl from Utah," at the Majestic tonight.

Coming to Fort Wayne after its four months' record of success at the Knickerbocker theater, New York, and its ensuing triumph at the Illinois theater, Chicago, this big organization will undoubtedly be the prominent spring attraction. In addition to having the singing, dancing and fun-making services of three of the brightest stars of musical comedy, it is conceded to be the best all around girl show ever imported from the Gaiety theater, London. The music by Paul and Jerome Kern is tuneful to a degree and includes the famous song hit, "The Same Sort of Girl," which has swept the country. There are many well known musical comedy favorites in addition to the three stars, including Venita Fitzhugh, Renee Reel, Queenie Vassar, Cissie Sewall, George Bishop, Walter Gilbert, George Wharton, Master Michael Mathews, Veronique Banner, Clara Eckstrom, Alice and Irene Palmer.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

WILLIAM FARNUM IN "THE NIGGER."

Famous Stage and Screen Star at Jefferson in Powerful Drama.

The morning after Edward Sheldon's play, "The Nigger," had been produced at the New theater in New York by that playhouse's famous all-star company, one of the critics said in a laudatory review of the drama, "The greatest of all American plays has been written by a rosy-cheeked youngster just out of college, who was too badly frightened last night to make a speech in response to the thunderous demands of the audience for a few words."

It is not surprising that Mr. Sheldon has turned out a master work in "The Nigger," which is pictured for the Fox corporation with the magnetic star, William Farnum, in the title role. The subject matter of the play has been a profound study with him. He delved deeply into its central situation on the very ground where the action of the drama takes place. The result is a play that is big and vibrant with the convincing reality of truth and sincerity. "The Nigger" deals with basic things touching the highest and lowest physical and moral motives of human nature. With masterly pen Sheldon has createdan epic on that vexed question, "the colored problem."

It is by the distinguished author and war correspondent, Richard Harding Davis. The interest of the audience in this drama never flags for a moment, so skillfully is it devised. In the cast are the celebrated motion picture stars, Lillian Gish, Wallace Reid, Elmer Clifton and F. A. Turner.

Would You Rather Be Nice Old Lady's Darling or Gay Young Lady's Slave?

Nixola Greeley-Smith Puts Question Squarely Up to the Young Men of America.

(By Nixola Greeley-Smith.)

New York, May 6.—Is it better to be an old lady's darling or a young woman's slave? And does this choice confront the young men of America today?

Jean H. E. Saint Cyr, aged 29, and just married to the elderly widow of James E. ("Silent") Smith, mother of the duchess of Vizeu and mother-in-law of Prince Miguel of Braganza, pretender to the now defunct throne of Portugal, has answered this question in the affirmative!

Moreover, he has answered it twice in the same way. For his first wife, who died last New Year's day and left him $300,000 was sixty years old!

Young Mr. Saint Cyr is the third husband of the society woman of New York and London, best known as the widow of "Silent" Smith. Her first husband, whom she divorced, was William Rhinelander Stewart. Their marriage occurred in 1879.

Mrs. Saint Cyr recently became a grandmother when the Duchess de Vizeu gave birth to a child.

The first Mrs. Saint Cyr, who left the bulk of her fortune to her young husband, was the widow of Henry Alexander Redfield, a banker of Hartford, Conn. Until her death she lived a life of ideal happiness with Saint Cyr.

Nothing is known of the early history of young Saint Cyr, who claims to belong to an old French family. After his marriage to his first wealthy widow he was seen a great deal at Bar Harbor and at Palm Beach where he electrified society by appearing on alternate days in bathing costumes of baby blue and rose pink. One of his amusements while at Palm Beach was to weight greenbacks with silver and throw them into the water to see negroes dive for them, the divers' reward being the money retrieved from the waves. At Bar Harbor the young man appeared in white riding breeches, a pink silk sweater and a drooping Panama hat with a flowing sash around it.

After the death of the first Mrs. Saint Cyr he reappeared at Palm Beach wearing clothes of black crepe and when he bathed his bathing suit was of the deepest mourning.

It was at Palm Beach that he met the widow of "Silent" Smith only a few weeks after his first wife's decease. "Silent" Smith left his widow $3,000,000—and the strange couple who were married in Virginia are now spending a rapturous honeymoon at Atlantic City.

Young men of America, what do you think of the choice of young Saint Cyr? What he thinks of it is fairly well indicated by the fact that he has chosen twice to be an old woman's darling. His friends say that he prefers that role to being a young woman's slave—to toiling, to buy smart clothes and provide theater tickets, rich food and wine, flowers and taxicabs for someone.

It is said young Saint Cyr believes this is the only choice that confronts the young man of today who seeks a wife and that he considers young women hard and selfish, women of middle life kind, experienced, tender and grateful.

It is difficult to think of this strange young fellow's second marriage as dictated by anything but free choice. For why should a man with an independent fortune of $300,000 marry an elderly woman for any other reason than because he loves her.

The Arabs have a proverb that in the love of an old woman there is death. But what do the Arabs know about it anyhow?

AN OLD LADY'S DARLING—OR A YOUNG GIRLS SLAVE?

Tremendous Film Drama in Three-Day Engagement at Colonial.

That master artisan of the screen, David W. Griffith, has truly evolved an epic drama in this remarkable presentation of Edgar Allan Poe's thrilling poems, "Annable Lee," and "The Tell-Tale Heart." Griffith received his inspiration from Poe's lines, but it is the Griffith genius for startling, vivid realism in cinematography that makes the play notable. With an art peculiar to him, he has visualized the spirit of Poe; with sharp, tremendous contrasts he has brought to our vision the imagery of Poe's weird bizarre situations, brought into alternately horrible and beautiful relief the mind workings of his inspired characters.

The cast presenting "The Avenging Conscience," is remarkable in the fact that it includes no less than five screen stars who are acknowledged to be Griffith's most accomptished. Of these the best known perhaps are Blanche Sweet and Henry B. Walthall, although Owen Moore, Robert Harron and Mae Marsh are all recognized artists of wide renown. The screen at the Colonial will be occupied by "The Avenging Conscience," today, tomorrow and Saturday.

AT THE MINUET.

"THE LIFE OF OUR SAVIOR."

Pathe's Magnificent Masterpiece at Minuet Today and Tomorrow.

If there is one photoplay that playgoers owe it to themselves to witness, it is the sublimely beautiful visualization of the Life of Christ, filmed in natural colors by the Pathe corporation upon the exact locales where transpired the greatest drama the world has ever known. The cast selected to present the glorious theme has been chosen from the ablest acting stars of Europe, many of whom have appeared for many years in the presentation of the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

The subject is handled in the most authentic and reverent manner and the beautiful story holds the spectator enthralled while teaching a lesson every man, woman and child should know. The conclusion leaves the onlooker feeling better toward mankind, realizing afresh the brotherhood of man too often forgotten in the materialistic struggle.

Special music by three-piece orchestra composed of Helene Spindler, Henry Simon and Wade Verwiere, will render special music during the performances which commence at the following hours: 1, 2:45, 4:30, 6:15, 8 and 9:45.

FRAUD CASES NOL-PROSSED.

Insufficient Evidence in Alaska Coal Land Deals.

Detroit, May 6.—The so-called Alaska coal land fraud cases pending in the United States district court here since 1911, have been nol-prossed at the request of the attorney-general, through his assistant, Ernest Knaebel.

Among the defendants were W. W. McAlpine, Arthur L. Holmes, Albert Roehm, George W. Ross, McCurdy C. Lebeau and Frank D. Andrus, all of Detroit. Indictments returned against the men by a federal grand jury here charged that 640 claims to land in Alaska had been obtained through fraud It was said at the time that the land was worth $50,000,000.

All of the men indicted were members of a concern formed to deal in Alaska real estate.

The action of the prosecution, it is understood, was caused by lack of evidence.

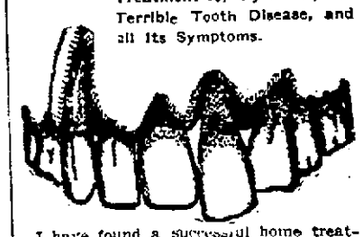
Loose Teeth Sore Gums

I am a Dentist of 23 Years' Experience. I Have Perfected a Most Successful Home Treatment for Pyorrhea, the Terrible Tooth Disease, and all its Symptoms.



I have found a successful home treatment for that terrible disease called Pyorrhea or Riggs disease of the gums. Most dentists tell their patients there is no cure for it, that there is no cure for loose teeth, bleeding, spongy, shrinking gums and droppping out of teeth; but I say there is, AND I PROVE IT.

Don't have those teeth pulled. I can save every one of them—make them good, firm, healthy, sound teeth again.

My wonderful home treatment stops the teeth from being loose or wobbly. It has done so in cases where the patient could almost pull his teeth out with his fingers, where the gums were soft and spongy, bleeding and shrinking away from the teeth. All these conditions positively and absolutely disappear. It means the end of your Pyorrhea. There is no pain, no fussing, no waste of a minute's time.

The torture and expense of dentist work—all its grinding, whirring, jamming and nerve touching agony are gone forever. No more plates and bridges. Enjoy good teeth, good chewing and a good stomach once more. If you have any of the symptoms mentioned, then Pyorrhea, sometimes called Riggs disease, is on the way—you are bound to lose your teeth and have to wear those awful false teeth if you don't cure it now. Simply send your name and address on coupon below and I will tell you all about this dreadful disease and why my simple home treatment will save your teeth, without pain or expense of the dental chair.

LOLA B. MOORE SAYS HUSBAND FIRED HOME

One of Burned Out Couple Wants Divorce from Cruel Man.

Lola Bertha Moore has begun action in the superior court for divorce from Jesse Moore, and among her numerous allegations is one that he came home drunk Tuesday night and after giving her five blows with a steel frying pan, painfully injuring her and driving her from the house, in some way unknown to her set fire to the dwelling, which was entirely destroyed with its contents, including all her apparel, her gold watch and chain and the household furniture.

She says he has been cruel and inhuman to her since three months after their marriage, has not supported her, compelling her to work for herself and him and that for three years he has been a habitual drunkard, spending all he earns in saloons. She wants $2,000 alimony and her maiden name of Wood. They were married in September, 1911.

Says She Deserted.

Although he provided her with a good home along with his mother in Van Wert, O., and the two appeared to get along well together and his wife seemed contented, Elizabeth C. Harvey packed up while he was away and deserted him and has since refused to return to his bed and board, avers Howard W. Harvey in a divorce complaint filed in the superior court. He says he was employed on the C. H. & D. railroad at the time. He says at the time Mrs. Harvey abandoned him he was preparing to get another home for themselves and that she knew it. They were married May 1, 1912, and she left him April 30, the following year. There are no children.

The People's Collateral Loan company has brought suit in the circuit court against Jacob C. Soliday to foreclose a chattel mortgage, demanding $147, and a similar suit against Edward L. Martin, demanding $290.

OPPOSE PENNSYLVANIA PLAN.

Farmers in Vicinity of Hadley Do Not Like Crossing Proposal.

The farmers of the vicinity of Hadley are practically a unit against the Pennsylvania railroad's plans for modifying the dangerous conditions caused by three road crossings of the railroad at Hadley and made it clear at a hearing held by Judge James L. Clark, of the Indiana public service commission, Thursday. The Pennsylvania proposes to abolish three crossings and build a new one to take their place, but this the people are hostile to as creating great inconvenience.

Judge Clark, County Commissioners Butt, Schwier and Black and Attorney Fred E. Zollars and Engineers Hall and Reese, representing the railroad, visited the scene and then returned to the court house for a hearing, most of the people of the vicinity who had met the party at the crossings coming in to give expression to their views. It is believed that Judge Clark will not recommend the Pennsylvania's plans.

TAXPAYING ENDS WELL.

Collection of spring installment of taxes was concluded by County Treasurer J. Herman Bueter and his big force of deputies at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, to which hour the office was kept open for the benefit of the tardy ones. Several thousand dollars were taken in after 6 o'clock. County Auditor Johnson and Wayne Township Assessor Miller also kept open house for the benefit of the belated taxpayers. Treasurer Bueter believes the deliquent list will be the smallest this spring for many years. It will be several days before the treasurer's force gets the total tax receipts compiled.

SUFFRAGISTS CAMP ON WILSON TRAIL

Decline to Be Put Off in Effort to Interview the President.

Washington, May 6.—President Wilson was besieged in the white house today by Mrs. Lawrence Lewis, jr., and Mrs. Harry Lowenburg, two Philadelphia woman suffragists, who refused to accept the word of the secretaries that the president would be unable to receive a delegation of suffragists when he goes to Philadelphia Monday, to address several hundred newly naturalized citizens.

The two women presented their request to the white house yesterday and early today received the president's answer. They returned to the white house several times, insisting that they be allowed to see the president personally and were told that he was busy seeing other callers. They replied that they would remain at the white house until they saw him.

"We came from Philadelphia to lay this request before the president," Mrs. Lowenburg said, "and we will not go back until we have seen him. Our delegation will see the president somewhere in Philadelphia when he goes there. Women suffrage will be voted on next fall and we want the president's assistance."

When the president went to lunch at 1 o'clock and all the secretaries left the executive offices, the two women remained on guard despite the fact that they were told repeatedly that the president would have no time for anything on his trip to Philadelphia except to deliver his address to the aliens.

After a long wait, the two suffragists discovered President Wilson had left for the golf links and they departed promising to return when the president did and renew their vigil.

had not been taken when they were sent.

Secretary Bryan today continued his policy of refusing to discuss the far eastern situation or to reveal to any extent the department's advices. He said, however, that there had been no suggestion of mediation and refused to predict what the course of the United States would be. In other official quarters it was intimated that a tender of good offices would only follow a serious crisis and there was no official information at hand on which to base such action.

From the beginning, however, the United States and Great Britain as well have quietly exerted friendly influences with both China and Japan to bring about an agreement to prevent a serious situation from arising. Beyond those informal efforts the American government has not gone.

Officials here read with interest the news dispatches but while acknowledging the tensity of the situation are known to be awaiting official advices before making any move.

m.)—The military developments of the last week have had a visible effect on popular feeling in Berlin which is decidedly more optimistic. Operations in the Russian province of Courland, on the Baltic; in Galicia and in Belgium indicate that the German forces are taking the offensive on a large scale and that greater events are to be expected.

The Russians are attempting to resist the Austro-German movement eastward in Galicia, having brought up reinforcements from the Carpathians for that purpose. Information received here, however, indicates that the Russians are being swept along before the Teutonic allies or else captured as were the previous defenders of the Russian position.

Austrian reports state that there is in progress a general Russian retreat extending from the positions to the south of Dukla Pass in Hungary where weeks ago the attacks upon an impregnable Austrian front, entailing frightful losses had exhausted the initiative of the invaders.

Further developments in Galicia are awaited here with breathless interest as it is believed the events on this section of the front may give a decisive turn to the entire eastern campaign. The view held here is that the whole Russian position has now become precarious.

The situation at Ypres, Belgium, where the grand duke of Wurttemburg is commanding, is also considered highly promising for the Germans. It is believed here that the British and French will hardly be able to hold the town of Ypres for another week. The Germans are said to have gained nearly three miles during the last few days, their opponents withdrawing slowly before the German infantry and machine gun attacks. Advices from the Belgian front says this retreat in places is a disorderly one and that numerous dead and wounded soldiers are being left on the ground.

MAKING PROGRESS, SAYS ASQUITH

English Premier Tells House of Commons of Dardanelles Attack.

London, May 6.—(4:20 p. m.)—The operations in the Dardanelles are being pressed forward under highly satisfactory conditions, Premier Asquith told the house of commons this afternoon in a statement of the combined naval and land attacks on Gallipoli.

The steamer Cathay, from Copenhagen for Chinese ports was either mined or torpedoed late last night in the North sea. She went down in twenty minutes. Her passengers and the members of her crew, totalling 43 persons, took to the small boats and all were landed safely at Ramsgate today. The Cathay was a Danish steamer. She was built in 1898 and was of 2,596 tons net register. She measured 296 feet long and was owned in Copenhagen.

The schooner Earl of Latham was sunk by a German submarine off Kinsale, on the Irish coast. The crew was permitted to take to the small boats, and was rescued by a trawler. The submarine fired six shells at the schooner before she sank.

The trawler, Stratton, of Grimsby, was sunk in the North sea yesterday by the gun fire of a German submarine. The crew was taken on board the submarine.

For the first time since the British forced the Germans from hill No. 60, near Ypres, the soldiers of Emperor William have been partly successful in their counter attacks and no advices to the contrary having been received, it is assumed that the Germans are still holding today the positions they obtained upon the hill by the use of asphyxiating gases.

In the meanwhile the German line to the east of Ypres is within three miles of the town. The British press does not seek to deny or minimize the persistency of this German offensive, but there is no disposition to lament the drawing in of the British front to the eastward and the northeastward of Ypres, which was the only alternative to a successful counter attack. Confidence is expressed that the new British alignment will prove beneficial in view of the hard fighting which is expected.

Wore an Old Coffee Sack.

Johnny lived the roughest life, camping out in the woods, or, if sleeping in the house, occupying the floor; his dress was an indescribable medley, composed of cast-off clothing he had taken in exchange for apple trees. In latter years this second-hand raiment he thought too luxurious and he wore as a principal garment an old coffee sack, in the bottom and sides of which he cut holes to thrust his head and arms through. He thought this a cloak good enough for any man to wear. He seldom wore shoes, except in winter. For traveling on rough roads he wore a rude pair of sandals. He bought no covering for his feet, used old cast-off boots or shoes, generally unmatched, and wore them while they would stick to his feet. He made his own head-gear. For a long time he wore the large tin dipper in which he cooked his mush while traveling. But it failed to shade his face from the sun. Hence he made a hat of pasteboard, with an immense peak in front, and bent down at the sides to protect his face from the heat.

Did Not Fear Death.

Johnny lead a blameless and moral life and likened himself to the primitive Christians, literally taking no thought of the morrow. The physician who was present at his death was heard to inquire what was Johnny Appleseed's religion; he had never seen a man in so placid a state at the approach of death, and so ready to enter upon another life.

The eccentric character planted out two nurseries on the Maumee river, in this county, about four miles east of New Haven, and one at Ox Bow bend, near the state line.

Now in recognition of what he has done in laying the foundation for making Ohio one of the great apple states of the country, the Ohio Apple Growers' association propose to erect a monument at his grave in the Archer cemetery on the old John Archer farm, north of Fort Wayne.

of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, for his part in the 1914 shopmen's strike.

"Mr. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen—I should call him brother, but don't because it's a disgrace," said Pierce, "came to Harrisburg and addressed a joint meeting of shopmen and transportation men. Lee said to those men that if the Pennsylvania railroad discharged one of the shopmen for joining the union, 'we have $5,000 union transportation men and $8,500,000 in the treasury and will use every dollar and every man against the railroad if they discharge those shopmen.' The trainmen said to the shopmen: 'Strike and we'll go with you.' But the trainmen did not strike with them. If ever a man was guilty of high treason against fellows it is W. G. Lee. He is the cause of suicides, great loss of property and the breaking up of homes."

Commissioner Aishton urged that Lee have an opportunity to answer the charge if he desired. Chairman Walsh said the testimony would be sent to Mr. Lee.

S. C. Long, general manager of the Pennsylvania, reiterated statements on the Pennsylvania's labor policy toward labor made yesterday by Vice President Atterbury.

LOCALS GRAB ANOTHER AS SEA ROLLS HIGH

Ball Park Stage Was Set for Ark Act and Robbins Wins.

With a heavy sea rolling and the weather too thick for safety, Boatswain Bierhalter at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon piped all hands on deck and the good ship League park sailed away on schedule time. A considerable amount of weather had collected about the old boat in the twenty-four hours previous to the sailing, and it was only by the use of corks and life lines that the seamen were able to navigate.

But in spite of the weather and the large and gaping spots of vacancy in the stands the game was a snappy one, and demonstrated that Bade Myers knew what he was doing when he forked over a sum of money for one Russell Robbins, hurler. Robbins worked for the locals, and although he opened a little wild, before the game was over he had eleven strike-outs chalked up to his credit. The big left-hander is the best little mound proposition in the league, and with development along one or two lines in the hands of our own Mr. Myers there will be few hurlers like him in the country. Since joining the locals Robbins has lost practically all the wildness that accounted for him not going to Chicago this season.

The locals shut out Grand Rapids, the final tally standing 3 and 0 at the end of one hour and fifty-five minutes of playing and half again that much time waiting between showers. The locals hit Romine freely, and only three strike-outs are charged to him, while the visitors' greatest difficulty was connecting with Robbins'twists and turns.

Two in the Third.

In the third inning, with one out, Hartle drove a single to center and no sooner had Beyers come to bat than Hartle stole second. He negotiated third on a passed ball and Beyers' infield hit shot him across the plate. Although the swat Beyers landed did not send the ball out of the infield, Callahan threw wildly in the general direction of first and Beyers got to second on the error. Tuman sent one to right that scored Beyers.

All was calm till the sixth, when Bratchi singled and was sacrificed to second by Holderman. He went to third on Hartle's out and came across on Hartsell's single to left. The score:

Will Make Indianapolis Entrants Hump Themselves to Limit.

Indianapolis, May 6.—With the entry list for the next Indianapolis 500-mile race a closed book, the attention of racing fans is next drawn to the elimination trials for the contest, aMy 20, 21 and 22, which will reduce the field to the maximum number of thirty-three.

Eight of the forty-one cars nominated (including the "unknown"), will fall by the wayside, either because they cannot make the speedway's eighty mile an hour minimum for a lap, or else because they are not quite as fast as their rivals. A fraction of a second's difference in time may prove the end for some of them.

Added interest is attached to the elimination trials this year, because of the rule which numbers cars and ranges them at the starting line on race day with reference to their speed, the fastest car receiving No. 1 and being placed in first position, next the pole.

It is thought this rule will make all the entrants hump themselves to the limit, regardless of whether they are sure of a place in the line-up or not, as a position well in front will give them unquestioned advantage, especially if they are in the first row.

Trials will be held in the inverse order of entry, as last year, the last car starting first and the first car last. This is to give the early entrants some compensation for their promptness in reporting.

SNATCHES OF THE GAME.

"Did you ever notice," asked the wise old owl in the bleachers, "that left-handed pitchers are either very good or very bad? You never heard of one that was 'just so-so.' Robbins is the very good kind. He has had trouble with his wildness ever since he was in baseball, and since he joined the local squad Bade Myers seems to be knocking this out of him. Once this disappears and Mr. Robbins is no longer a member of the Central. He's going up."

The Cubs play at Monroeville this afternoon, and Friday morning they go to Wheeling and from there cover the eastern circuit. They hit Dayton after Wheeling, and then Erie and then Youngstown, and come home in about two weeks.

John Tuman looks better every day. He is playing out of his position, and is naturally having a hard time, but he is coming in with a nice little hit every now and then and seems to be warming up to the outfield.

Beyers continues to hit like a fiend, and there is little doubt but that he will remain in the first group in the lead in stick work.

Stellbauer did another one of his little sensations in the game Wednesday when he climbed into the air and pulled down a hard one Bed Smith, alias Smyth, sent out in his general direction.

HOW THE CHAMPION BATTERS GRIP THE OLD WAR STICK

HUGH FULLERTON REVEALS ECCEN TRICITIES AND SUPERSTITIONS OF SLUGGING STARS.

How Ty Cobb grips his pet war club. Top picture, Cobb swinging Crawford's, Bush's and his own. Middle picture, the final "weighting" of the club. Below, waiting to step into a fast one.

(By Hugh Fullerton).

Who steals my purse, steals trash; but he who pilfers from me my favorite bat pinches that which makes a busher of a star.—Heine Shakespeare.

There is one thing a professional baseball player values more highly than he does his batting average and that is his favorite bat.

Ty Cobb, for instance. When he leaves the bench he picks up three bats, his own, which is slender, light in the handle, and a "toothpick" up to the very spot he wants the ball to hit. Donie Bush's long, light, thin bat, "for luck," and Sam Crawford's formidable war club, for luck and weight.

He grips these three bats in his intertwined fingers and swings them back and forth. He throws Crawford's bat back toward the bench, swings two bats, throws Bush's bat back and runs to the plate swinging his own. The ball player theory of swinging three bats is that after three have been swung one will feel lighter.

At bat Cobb grips his thin, light club firmly with his right hand and instantly slides his left hand up and down the bat until it grips two inches above the right hand.

He uses exactly the grip in batting a baseball that Baird does in gripping a golf club and beyond doubt his "follow through" is what adds to the driving power of the great golfer.

Frank Chance had a lot of peculiar habits. He would stop outside the batter's box, lean his bat against himself, adjust his cap tightly upon his head, jerk his belt, hitch up his trousers, pull his cap again, step into position, hitch his trousers, beat the end of his bat three times upon the plate and then he was ready.

There is quite as much superstition among modern ball players as among the old-timers. I remember Pietro Gladiator Browning, the greatest of them all in his day, who had to have a certain kind of chewing tobacco.

There was big Roger Connor, who used to take his bats to bed with him and after oiling and rubbing them down for the night would hang them out the window.

Jimmy Ryan, one of the greatest of the old-timers, had to have a bat with a red band on it and three worm holes showing somewhere in the wood.

One day in Boston we searched school stores and small places for two days seeking the kind of bat he wanted and when we found it he made three home runs in the next game.

Ed Delehanty, oddly enough, never was superstitious about his bat; he would use anything that had weight and drive to it.

Larry Jajoie is much the same way. He favored certain bats and when they failed him he would give them away.

Wagner has his favorite weight and model of bat but is likely to grab any piece of wood that is handy and rush to the plate with it and hit.

Frank Schulte has a special model bat, much like that of Cobb, and he always has claimed the change of model by the maker stopped him from hitting home runs the season he came to a tie with the league record.

Joe Jackson has a bat shaped very much on the Cobb style, but heavier.

Cap Anson always used a bat of remarkable weight constructed of split bamboo with a solid core.

STEWART OUTPOINTS STEVE KETCHEL

Jackson, Mich., May 6.—Hal Stewart, of Fort Wayne, Ind., outpointed Steve Ketchel, of Grand Rapids, last night here in a fast bout that kept the spectators up and jumping from the first bell. Stewart landed two blows to his opponent's one, and although Ketchel was pretty badly battered he stood up through the mill. He fought blindly and swung repeatedly at the spot Stewart had just left.

Seven years ago their experts placed this new but tested oil on the market. 1,100 gallons were sold the first year. Then motorists found it out.

1909's demand was for 335,000 gallons—1910's was for 1,118,400. In 1914 nearly 7,000,000 gallons were used in the Middle West alone.

Polarine has gained in sales an average of a million gallons yearly simply because its use eliminated the annoyance and delays incident to unsuitable lubricating oils. Hundreds of thousands of good cars have been saved from the scrap heap by its use. Use it in your motor. See what it does.

ELKS' MAY FESTIVAL BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Two hundred couples attended the May festival given by Fort Wayne lodge, No. 155, B. P. O. E., at the home on West Berry street, Wednesday evening, the event being one of the most brilliant events of the season.

A large May pole was erected in the center of the banquet room, which was beautifully decorated with the season's flowers. Natural flowers were given to the ladies as favors.

A musical entertainment was given by M. F. Noll and family, including a trombone solo by Harvey Sawyer. Music was also furnished by Roembke's orchestra.

Gaylord S. Morton, secretary of the lodge, has received word that James E. Watson, of Rushville, will be unable to be here for the silver anniversary to be held on Thursday, May 20. Another prominent speaker will be secured to take his place on the program.

A session of the lodge will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and following the initiation of a large class of candidates the Elks' band will give a concert. The banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock with Major G. Will Wilson as toastmaster.

Members of the local order will go to the annual state convention to be held at Michigan City, June 3, in a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad. WILL SEEK HABEAS CORPUS.

New Efforts to Free Roberts and Redman is Planned.

Leavenworth, Kas., May 6.—An attempt to free former Mayor Donn M. Roberts and Judge Eli Redman from the federal prison here, will be made on a habeas corpus writ. Frank B. Fippen, one of the attorneys for defense in the Terre Haute election fraud cases, announced last night. Roberts and Redman were sentenced to the penitentiary on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the election at Terre Haute last November.

Fippen said he would contend that the federal law, under which the prisoners were convicted is void, because it interferes with state rights, and that the indictments of Roberts and Redman were improperly drawn.

Mrs. Roberts is in Kansas City with relatives. She will visit her husband at the prison today.

HEIDER INDICTED FOR MAIL THEFTS

Indianapolis, Ind., May 6.—Federal authorities in Indianapolis have taken official notice of the right of a girl in Toledo, Ohio, to the possession of an organdie dress, a white silk waist, some girdles and handkerchiefs, and as a result Albert C. Heider, of Fort Wayne, now faces a charge of robbing the mails.

The dress and other articles, the authorities say, were mailed to Miss Persis Bond by her mother, who lives in Fort Wayne. It is charged that while the package was in transit, it was stolen. Heider was indicted for the theft by the federal grand jury yesterday.

Eight others were indicted by the grand jury, among them William Davern, who is charged with perjury. Davern appeared as a witness for the defense in the Terre Haute election fraud case and is said to have admitted that his testimony in that case was false. He is at liberty under bond.

All those indicted will be arraigned in federal court here May 10.

THEY ARE 70 YEARS OLD.

"For some time past my wife and myself were troubled with kidney trouble," writes T. B. Carpenter, Harrisburg, Pa. "We suffered rheumatic pains all through the body. The first few doses of Foley Kidney Pills relieved us. After taking five bottles between us we are entirely cured. Although we are both in the seventies we are as vigorous as we were thirty years ago." Foley Kidney Pills stop sleep disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, dizziness, swollen joints and sore muscles. Dreier Drug Co.—Adv.

BABY'S FACE BROKE OUT WITH PIMPLES

Itched and Burned. Fretful and Restless. Impossible to Sleep Nights. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Face as Well as Ever.

Glenburn, N. Dak.—"My baby's face began to break out with pimples which turned into sores. The pimples were small and festered. They itched and burned so that she scratched them. She was fretful and restless and kept scratching them while she slept. It became so bad that it was impossible for her to sleep nights.

"I began by bathing her face with ——— and water and then applying ——— but as it kept growing worse I got a prescription of some kind of salve. Still her face got worse. I read of Cuticura Soap and Ointment so tried them. After the second application I could notice an improvement and in less than two weeks her face was as well as ever without a scar." (Signed) Mrs. Sidney Turner, June 5, 1914.

Suppose We Pared These Tires

Suppose this All-Weather tread—now double-thick—was pared to the thinness of the usual anti-skid. Would it endure like this one? Or so resist puncture?

Suppose we used—as some do—one less fabric ply. Or made the whole tire lighter. Suppose we omitted our exclusive features:

Our No-Rim-Cut feature—
Our "On-Air" cure—
Our rubber rivets—
Our 126-piano-wire base.

All rivals do omit them. All of them are costly. Our "On-Air" cure alone costs us $450,000 yearly to save needless blowouts. But could Goodyear Fortified Tires retain top place if we did not give those extras?

Cost Added Prices Lowered

Instead of that, we all the time add costly betterments. We spend on experts $100,000 yearly to seek out new improvements.

Our All-Weather tread—always double-thick—is made still thicker in some sizes.

Our Inner Tubes have been thickened 14 per cent on the average.

Our fabric has been strengthened.

Yet on February 1st we made our third big price reduction in two years, bringing the total to 45 per cent. Now you are getting in Goodyear Fortified Tires the best value ever known in tire making.

It is due to yourself that you this year join this army of contented tire users. It is by far the largest army in Tiredom. Any dealer will supply you. (2331)

SENTINEL WANT ADS ALWAYS GET RESULTS

INAUGUARATING THE HOME CARD ROUTE

Nickel Plate Superintendent Watterson Out Instructing Agents.

A special train bearing some Nickel Plate officials is making a trip over the Fort Wayne division today, for the purpose of disseminating information concerning the new home route card proposition, described by The Sentinel two weeks ago. In the party today are W. A. Collie, superintendent of car service; H. A. Macbeth, superintendent of motive power; W. G. Black, master mechanic, and W. F. Watterson, division superintendent. They left Bellevue at 8 o'clock this morning and will reach Fort Wayne about 5 o'clock this evening. They will stop at every station and explain the home card route to the agents and leave some of the cards with them. "When this system is in full operation we will have less trouble handling cars," said one of the officials. "It will save empty car mileage and hasten the movement of cars to their home line."

DISPATCHING BY TELEPHONE.

G. R. & I. Commence It on Part of Line Sunday.

J. F. Betts, division operator of the G. R. & I., is out on the northern end of the division today, instructing telegraph operators how to handle train dispatching and blocking by telephone between Wolcottville and Grand Rapids. The telephone system being installed by the company is ready for operation between those points and will go into service at 7 o'clock next Sunday morning. Mr. Betts is making the trip over the line on a motor car. Supt. B. H. Hudson said that the other portion of the southern division from Wolcottville to Richmond, would probably be completed and put into service Sunday, May 23. It is the intention, when the telephone line is finished, to do all train dispatching work and blocking by telephone, thus facilitating the work and making congestion of the line in busy times less likely to occur than when dispatching is performed by the telegraph alone. The latter will be used for messages and in emergency cases by the dispatchers when the telephone is out of commission.

SMALL CREW LIST.

Pennsylvania Has Only Fifty on Freight Board.

The freight crew list of the Pennsylvania at present is the smallest within the recollection of the present force. There being only fifty regulars and five extra engineers on the list. This morning three more regular engineers were put back to firing on passenger engines. They were O. R. Leedy, L. F. Wood and C. T. Lake. This reduction was followed by other changes. F. Butz, F. H. Dressell and N. E. Nestle were transferred from the regular list of passenger firemen to the extra list and Daniel Shepler, E. G. Ludwig and I. A. Herber, who were extra passenger firemen, have been put back to the freight service. M. W. DeWitt, E. O. Snell, O. H. Wiese and C. A. Traster, freight firemen, have been furloughed. "The good health of the engineers and firemen in the regular service of the Pennsylvania is unprecedented," said one of the extras. "None are ever sick or lay off for other purposes and the poor extra gets little work."

Boilermaker H. W. G. Heine and Machinist Frank L. Hebert will commence the semi-annual inspection of the boilers and machinery in the pumping stations, heating plants and elsewhere on the Western division of the Pennsylvania next week. It usually takes two weeks to perform this work. Messrs. Hebert and Heine have made these trips twice a year for many years.

The speaker at the Sunday afternoon meeting of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. will be Mr. Martin, of Elkhart, known in traveling men and Dideon circles as "Corn Starch Jim." His talk will be for men only. Secretary A. J. Cash announces that special music will be furnished and other efforts made to make the meeting one of the best. A big crowd is expected.

George W. Lowe and T. J. Rodabaugh left this morning for Lake James in an automobile. These men have the distinction of being the pioneer cottagers at Lake James. Long before there were any cottages at Lake James and before there were other means of reaching the lake than by horse and buggy or a foot, these pioneers made annual trips there and camped out two or three weeks each summer. Each has a fine cottage there now. Mr. Lowe's being on Spring Point and Mr. Rodabaugh's on Nodaway Point.

Never Lost Trench His Record in War

General de Maud'huy, of the French army, recently wounded in action in Flanders. He has the distinction of never having lost a trench since he took command of the right wing of General Foch's army.

GAS STEALERS ARE TO BE PROSECUTED

Indiana Lighting Company Begins Campaign on Robbers.

The Indiana Lighting company has opened a campaign on gas stealers in Fort Wayne and the first of several affidavits that will be filed was taken to the circuit court Thursday afternoon by Prosecuting Attorney Harry H. Hilgeman. In it S. E. Mulholland, manager of the Lighting company, charges that David Byerle, of Barthold street, stole gas of the value of $1. It was found it is said that at the Barthold street house a pipe had been carried through the foundation wall and that gas was being burned from the end of the pipe to warm the cellar, where some work was in progress. The charge of petit larceny is the only one that applies to the case as there is no specific law in Indiana against stealing gas. Nor are there any decisions in this state on gas stealing, although it has been upheld in other states that gas is subject to larceny.

Manager Mulholland, when asked concerning the affidavit against Byerle, said that the Indiana Lighting company has been extensively a victim of gas stealing for a long time and that the suit is the beginning of an effort to break up the practice of getting gas without payment. He said that this species of robbery was more common than would be believed. Frequently persons are found who use gas for domestic and other purposes by tapping the pipes or turning on the gas unknown to the company and using it without stint. He cited one instance where an investigation disclosed that a householder had piped gas into his furnace and was consuming an enormous quantity to heat his residence.

There is a statute against altering gas connections by any one unauthorized to do so, but it is practically a dead letter because the prosecution must be against the person actually making the alteration.

SUFFRAGE IS CAUSE FOR RACE SUICIDE

Women in Instinctive Rebellion, According to Leader.

New York, May 5.—"The crusade for equal suffrage is doubtless a cause for the drop in the birth rate," Mrs. Carroll Beckwith, wife of the noted artist, said yesterday. A loyal woman suffragist and a member of the Twilight Sleep association, she yielded no ground to the need of votes for women in taking this stand.

"You think that small families are a sign of the rebellion of women against present conditions?"

"Yes, not a conscious rebellion, but an instinctive one. Women are not saying to themselves or to others, 'We will contribute no soul to a community and a country that is being mismanaged,' but that is a deep part of their consciousness.

"It is no strike, such as has been contemplated by some radical leaders of feminine thought, but an instinct to spare children the struggle of growing up amid and coping with conditions that obtain in a man-made and man-administered government.

"I sincerely believe this is a temporary phase. I am convinced that when this country shall have suffrage for women there will follow a notable rise in the birth rate."

Inspection of the old walls of the palace of the Louvre disclosed that reinforced concrete was known and used in Paris in the sixteenth century.

The number of workmen killed in the quarries and metal and coal mines of this country in 1912 was 3,234, which averaged 3.22 for each 1,000 employed. This does not contemplate those injured.

THREE SALARY LISTS MAY BE INVALIDATED

If Park List is Illegal, the Water and Light Departments Are.

Legal authorities who have examined the state laws and the ordinances establishing minimum and maximum salary lists for the waterworks, municipal lighting and park departments say that if the park list ordinance, over which there is now a controversy, is illegal, the other two similar ordinances are. The clause in the new park board law conferring on the city council the power to create certain offices and positions of employment and fix the salaries thereof is identical with the clause in the public utilities law covering the same points. The law says the board of works may employ certain officials and employes "at and for such compensation as may be fixed by such ordinance," referring to any ordinance the council is empowered to pass for that purpose, and the park law, defining the full and exclusive powers of the park board, says that it shall have authority to appoint "a secretary at a salary of $1,500 per annum, which may be increased by the council of such city to $2,000 per annum, and such other employes, clerks, engineers, surveyors, superintendents of parks, landscape architects and attorneys as may be authorized by ordinance of the council of said cities and at such compensation as may be fixed by such council."

The council some weeks ago passed ordinances fixing the salaries of officials and employes in the waterworks and lighting departments and these ordinances have been in effect. A similar ordinance for the park department was passed at the last meeting of the council and Mayor Hosey has refused to sign it, holding that it is illegal. Because the ordinance still wants the mayor's approval, Comptroller W. C. Baade has not paid the salaries of Park Board Secretary Charles J. Steiss, Park Superintendent Carl J. Getz, Assessment Bureau Chief Estella Breedon Baker and Record Clerk Miss Schmidt, refusing to issue warrants for them on Wednesday, when pay was due.

President William A. Bayer, of the city council, has asked City Attorney Guy Colerick for a written opinion as to the legality of the park board ordinance and it will be given in writing. Upon this will probably depend whether or not a new ordinance must be passed so that the park board officials and employes named can get their pay. If City Attorney Colerick holds that park board ordinance is invalid it will be necessary to correct the salary ordinances for the waterworks and lighting departments.

NEW TRACTION FRANCHISE.

State Street Tracks to Go to Center of the Thoroughfare.

The most important business for the board of public works Thursday evening will be the granting of a new franchise to the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company for its tracks on State street from the St. Joe river to the eastern terminus of the line. This franchise is as much urged by the board as by the company, as the design of it is to get the street car tracks moved from the sides to the center of the street, which is to be paved this year. When the county commissioners granted the franchise about twenty years ago, which was not then in the city, it stipulated that the tracks should be built along the side of the thoroughfare. This was done and for a part of the distance the tracks are along the south edge of the street and for a part on the north edge. The new franchise will not abate any other conditions and will impose upon the traction company all the conditions that apply in the franchises granted in 1903 to the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley company, as to paving, maintenance and the like. The franchise will have to go the usual course as prescribed by the state utilities law.

Columbia City Woman Had Swallowed Nails in Desperation.

Mrs. G. B. Widdifield, of Columbia City, who recently submitted to an operation at the Lutheran hospital for the removal of a quantity of nails from her stomach which she had swallowed, is making a good recovery and has returned to her home.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, May 6.—Wheat values showed a hardening tendency today as a result of comparatively firmness in quotations at Liverpool. The opening, which varied from the same as last night to ⅜c higher, was followed by additional gains and then a reaction.

Corn developed weakness owing to selling pressure from local speculators. After opening ¼c off to a shade advance, the market made a slight upturn, but soon underwent a sag all around.

Favorable crop report gave the bears an advantage in oats. Buyers were scarce.

Provisions averaged lower with hogs. Longs realized quite freely.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 6.—Partial recoveries from yesterday's late selling movement were recorded during the day's trading on the stock exchange, although the movement as a whole was decidedly irregular. Pressed Steel Car rose two points and Westinghouse, Crucible Steel and Amalgamated Copper a point each. Bethlehem Steel added six points to its material rise of the preceding session. Leaders like U. S. Steel, Union Pacific and Great Northern opened with fractional gains but these were soon lost as a result of recurrent weakness in Reading. The general list receded moderately after initial offerings had been absorbed.

Foreign affairs continued to exert an unfavorable influence. Italy's attitude and the situation in the far east giving rise to further apprehension. This was reflected in the market's feverish undertone. Important stocks selling under yesterday's low quotations, while Steel, Union Pacific and other leaders showed even greater weakness. Trading was largely of a professional character.

AUBURN NEWS.

Auburn, Ind., May 6.—Rev. A. P. Bourns, the new Presbyterian minister, has been asked to deliver the Memorial day address.

More complications have arisen in the famous Heffner damage case which has occupied the attention of the court the last few terms. Joseph Heffner was accused of stealing from the B. & O., but was not convicted, and then sued the company for damages. He was awarded $2,000, but the railroad took the case higher up. This court made the same findings, and the money was paid, but in the meanwhile Haffner had died. The fight now on is as to who gets the money.

Mayor McClellan returned from the hospital in Garrett Wednesday much improved. He will go into the work of the city again, but will need to be careful for a while.

B. B. Harrison, formerly superintendent of the city schools, has accepted the invitation of the Alumnae association to appear at the first annual banquet, May 28. Professor Tyner, now of Fort Wayne, but formerly prinicpal of the high school, will also be here.

Referee in bankruptcy, Sol Wood, of Fort Wayne, has advised the creditors of C. H. G. Jones, who failed last winter, that they will receive the final settlement May 14.

Miss Bessie Kinsey, teacher of the third and fourth grades of the DeSoto building, is ill with the mumps, and her sister, Miss Lulu, is taking her place.

The Beidler drug store, at Waterloo, was broken into Tuesday night and $20 taken from the safe. Entrance was gained through the rear door, and from evidence left it is thought to be the work of amateurs.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Benner, of this city, celebrated their fiftieth anniversary of wedded life in their little home on South Jackson street Tuesday, and passed the day very quietly. They are both about 75 years old, and remember well when Auburn consisted of a cluster of huts in the woods. Mr. Benner is a veteran of the civil war.

New York, May 1.—An ode to the pedal extremeties of the prettiest girl in New York—this in a staid, highbrow literary publication!

It is only one phase of the furore stirred up by the dancing of Frances Pritchard, the unintended star in one of New York's new musical comedies, "The Peasant Girl."

Frances Pritchard danced blithsomely onto the stage one day from Maryland, and New York sat up and took notice! Emma Trentini had been advertised as the star. Nobody advocated special attention to little Frances Pritchard. But Frances simply smiled and danced with youthful abandon, and straightway every male member of the audience lost his heart,

FRANCES PRITCHARD, THE UNINTENDED STAR IN "THE PEASANT GIRL."

A new beauty, a fresh and charming beauty, had been discovered! Today there is not a dissenting voice in the chorus that hails Frances Pritchard as the prettiest girl on the New York stage. And she has brought a big lesson to Broadway. She demonstrates that the star of a musical comedy can be simple, natural, free from pose and affectation, and still make the hit of the season. Frances Pritchard, the new American beauty, might be a native shepherdess, from an old painting, in her appearance on the stage.

FRED KORTE, DRIVER, PAINFULLY INJURED

Fred Korte, who resides at 812 Walnut street, a driver for the Rhinesmith & Simonson Lumber company for the past twenty-eight years, was very painfully injured at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the horse which he was driving became frightened at the Taylor street short line car and tried to run away.

The accident occurred a short distance west of the Taylor street bridge. Mr. Korte was successful in stopping the enraged animal but in so doing suffered scratches over his entire body, a deep cut on his forehead and a cut on his elbow. He was thrown from the wagon and one of the wheels ran over his foot which is giving him great pain.

A doctor was called who attended him and later Mr. Korte got back on the wagon and drove back to the lumber yard. Reports from his home Thursday were to the effect that he was resting easily.

YEGGMEN FAIL IN ATTEMPT.

Effort to Rob Little Indiana Postoffice is Bungled.

Richmond, Ind., May 6.—Yeggmen made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the postoffice at Boston, six miles south of here, early today. Two men were seen to run from the building after the explosion. Policemen from Richmond who were called to Boston, say the job was bungled and that evidently was the work of amateurs. The safe was damaged but no money or stamps were disturbed.

MARION TOWNSHIP SHOWS A DECREASE

Marion township made a poor showing in the school enumeration just completed, according to the figures filed with D. O. McComb, county superintendent, Thursday. The township has made a loss of thirty-three, the total enumeration for 1915 being 367 as compared with 420 in 1914.

Only three townships have reported and the others are expected to come in before the end of the week with the exception of the enumeration being taken in Fort Wayne. The county superintendent is confident that the county will show an increase in the number of children under twenty-one years of age. The enumeration being taken in Fort Wayne is not showing up as well, however, although it is still believed that there will be a slight gain. The gain will not be as large as in former years.

ALL SCARE; NO FIRE.

The fire department was called to 1214 Lafayette street at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, where a defective chimney had filled the upstairs with smoke. The house is occupied by Mrs. Marie Cavalier. No damage was done.
